

4 INJURED IN 7 ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND

Four persons were injured, none apparently seriously, in a series of seven traffic accidents in Adams County over the weekend. Six of the mishaps occurred on Route 15, north and south of Gettysburg. The damage to cars involved totaled more than $1,900, state police from the Gettysburg station reported after their investigations.

Two persons were injured and more than $1,200 damage caused Sunday evening at 8:25 o'clock at the York Springs intersection when three cars collided on wet and very slippery highways.

The cars involved were operated by Charles Aaron Rohrbaugh, 30, Littlestown R. 2; Chester Franklin Souer, 35, Frederick, Md., and William George Tull Jr., 24, Interlaken R. 2, N. Y.

Blame Wet Road
Tull was headed north and stopped behind a pickup truck that was waiting to make a left turn onto the Carlisle Highway. Rohrbaugh, also going north, applied his brakes, skidded on the wet road and struck the left rear of the Tull car. Then his car crossed the highway and crashed into the front of the southbound Shuey machine.

Mrs. Mildred C. Rohrbaugh, 29, Littlestown R. 2, wife of the driver of the Littlestown car, was taken to the Warner Hospital with a sprained right ankle and contusions and lacerations of the forehead. Shirley Troxell, 17, also an occupant of the Rohrbaugh car, suffered a sprained left thumb.

Damage to the Rohrbaugh car was placed at $700; $800 to Souer and $10 to the Tull machine.

Second Crash At Scene
While state police were investigating the three-car crash at the York Springs intersection, a car operated by George James Valles, Milwaukee, Wis., skidded out of control on the wet road a short distance south of the intersection on the hill side and struck an embankment. The accident occurred about 9:10 p.m. and (Continued On Page 3)

U.N. Makes Trial Run With 150 Allied Soldiers Of Program For Release Of 3,313 Yankees

MUNSAN, Korea, 2- The United Nations Command staged an elaborate trial run today of the exchange program which will speed 3,313 Americans and other Allied prisoners of the Korean War home in a mass exchange starting Wednesday.

One hundred and fifty Allied soldiers played the role of liberated POWs in the dress rehearsal and actually were moved from the exchange point at Panmunjom to the port of Incheon, where United States-bound troop ships awaited the actual exchange.

Allied and Communist Red Cross representatives, meanwhile, cleared the way for the first joint inspection of North and South Korean prisoner camps.

They signed an agreement at first opposed by the Reds—to enable the 60-man teams to begin their work at 9 a. m. Tuesday (7 p. m. EST, Monday). Red Cross teams of Americans, Danes and British will pass legally north of the Communist Iron Curtain for the first time, while teams of Chinese and North Koreans cross to the south.

The agreement allows the Allied Red Cross teams to visit Red POW

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Fairfield Shoe Company plant shortly after 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, despite the combined efforts of fire-fighters from eight fire companies. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

The conflagration is a serious blow to Fairfield as it means the loss of employment, at least temporarily, for 400 men and women.

However, the plant will be rebuilt just as soon as possible. Sigmund Spiegel, New York City, who arrived in Gettysburg late Sunday evening, told The Gettysburg Times this morning.

A fire company official estimated the loss in the neighborhood of $1,500,000. It is said to be covered by insurance. Part of the loss was a sizable stock of leather.

The 400 employees made 7,200 pairs of shoes a day in the 100 by 250 foot plant.

Discovered By Watchman

The mysterious blaze was discovered by Edgar W. Brown, 56, watchman at the plant. He had been with the company about a year. Mr. Brown said that he had just completed his 3:30 o'clock round of the plant, inspecting the factory and punching the time clocks. He said, "I had just reached the cutters and had turned to look back when something blew up and flames almost immediately spread all over the place. They even seemed to come out of the ceiling. I rang the fire alarm and then crawled out of the building on my hands and knees, the smoke was that bad."

Miss Helen McClellan, a teacher in the Fairfield school, who resides with her mother, Mrs. Fannie McClellan, across the street from the factory, said that she was on her porch when she saw smoke coming out of the blower at the factory. Then she saw flames and called the fire department. A telephone operator said that the Fairfield Fire Department responded to the alarm in about one minute.

Fairfield Calls Town Meeting This Evening

Robert Newman, president of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce, and H. C. Heimer, president of the Fairfield Borough Council, today issued the following joint statement:

"Sunday afternoon the worst blow in the history of Fairfield was dealt to us when the Fairfield Shoe Factory burned. Hundreds of families are without income today and scores of others are affected indirectly. What can we do to rebuild our industry here in Fairfield? What can we do to insure adequate protection for future industries?"

"In order to discuss these problems, the Fairfield Borough Council and the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce have called a meeting for tonight at 8 o'clock in the Fairfield Community Fire Company Hall. If this disaster has affected you, won't you please come to the meeting to help plan a solution for the future?"

The public meeting for this evening planned at the Ground Observer Corps with a speaker from Harrisburg has been postponed to a later date.

Fire Briefs

Burgess Robert Kleppinger is said to have turned in the alarm for the Fairfield fire department. He was one of the first to see the blaze, and he and others arrived simultaneously to spread the alarm. The Burgess then drove the fire truck to the scene.

Francis Schultz was visiting his parents Sheriff and Mrs. Dorsey Schultz, at the time of the fire. As the flames blazed the house, neighbors carried out nearly all of his furniture, including a china closet that was carried out intact. No a cup was cracked.

Firemen and neighbors removed 2500 chickens from Schultz's poultry house as the flames enveloped the structure. The chickens were put in neighbors' garages and when the fire burned out the chickens were returned to the poultry house.

The Fairfield fire company remained on duty all night. The last of water was thrown on the smoldering ruins at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

Various fire companies "pelted" each other during the night after the blaze was under control. Gettysburg's last group returned to the engine house here at 1:20 o'clock this morning.

Frederic Garland, one of the Gettysburg firemen, suffered a burn wound of the foot when he stepped on a nail. He was treated by a physician at the scene.

Firemen estimated that a 400 foot fire was set up to burn water from the fire. They added that about 10,000 feet of hose were used in fighting the flames.

The women of Fairfield joined to make sandwiches and coffee for the firemen. They worked far into the night.

ON TV PROGRAM

Corinne Lea Frank, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Frank, of Eggleville, will co-sponsor the "Ballet Goss" amateur hour over WMAR-TV, Baltimore Channel 7, Thursday evening at 10:30 o'clock.

Save Nearby Home
The efforts of the Fairfield firemen seemed feeble against the roaring inferno. Flames broke out all over the building and were beyond control from the discovery of the blaze.

The Gettysburg Fire Department was summoned at 4:45 o'clock and responded with four pieces of equipment, the ladder truck, service truck, Mack and No. 6 pumper. About 60 Gettysburg firemen helped fight the blaze.

Most of their attention was concentrated on the adjoining properties. They helped save the Francis Schultz residence, across the narrow alley from the burning plant. A large chicken house in the rear of Schultz's home also was saved.

Water Supply Gave Out
Fire Chief Harper Rimer, of Fairfield, said he could not account for the blaze and could give no estimate of the amount of damage.

Ignatius Angelo, superintendent who resides across the street from the factory, had returned on Friday from a vacation in Maine. On Sunday he took his family on a picnic and was not in Fairfield when the fire broke out. He said he was in his automobile when he heard an announcement over WGET that a severe fire had broken out in Fairfield and that a number of fire companies had been summoned. He said he suspected it might be the shoe factory and started for home. He was at a loss to understand what caused the fire. "I am glad, however, that there was no loss of life," he said.

Firemen laid water hoses from a pond near the factory but soon this supply of water gave out and several hoses were laid in relay and water was pumped from Middle Creek (Flat Run) to the fire. Firemen kept several streams on the burning structure which was beyond saving shortly after the alarm was sounded. Then the firemen joined others in playing water on nearby structures. Paint on homes across the street from the conflagration was scorched.

Officials See Damage
Other fire departments summoned to the blaze were: Pottsville, with one truck; Cashtown, 2; Emmusburg, 1; Blue Ridge Summit, 1; Barlow, 1; and Fort Ritchie, 1. Fairfield used four of its trucks. Bonneauville firemen went to the scene of the blaze Sunday night to relieve one of the departments. They remained until 2:30 o'clock this morning.

P. C. Musselman and his son, Robert, Fairfield, went to the burning building after the watchman had crawled out and used the extinguishers on to avail.

Robert Weiser, also of Fairfield, was treated for burns when he attempted to fight the blaze.

Theodore Frank, of New York City, one of the owners of the Company, and Irving Manner, of Harrisburg, arrived in Gettysburg late Sunday night and conferred at the Hotel Gettysburg.

With other company officials, this morning they went to Fairfield to inspect the damage. Bruno Reel, 535 Highland Ave., is secretary-treasurer of the company.

Another Alarm
The factory was a one-story structure and the offices occupied a two-story section at the front. Women's casual shoes, leather and imitation leather, were made at the plant. A warehouse, well-stocked with shoes, was saved. It is located across the rear alley of the plant. The company operates another shoe factory at Dillsburg.

Mrs. Mildred C. Rohrbaugh, 29, Littlestown R. 2, wife of the driver of the Littlestown car, was taken to the Warner Hospital with a sprained right ankle and contusions and lacerations of the forehead. Shirley Troxell, 17, also an occupant of the Rohrbaugh car, suffered a sprained left thumb.

Damage to the Rohrbaugh car was placed at $700; $500 to Shuey and $10 to the Tull machine.

Second Crash At Scene

While state police were investigating the three-car crash at the York Springs intersection, a car operated by George James Valles, Milwaukee, Wis., skidded out of control on the wet road a short distance south of the intersection on the hill side and struck an embankment. The accident occurred about 9:10 p.m. and (Continued On Page 3)

HERE DURING BATTLE, DIES AT 92 IN BALTIMORE

Word has been received here of the death of Miss Susie McClain, Baltimore. She was one of the honored guests at the Lincoln celebration held over the Memorial Day weekend at Hanover Junction.

Miss McClain, who was 92, was expected to visit Hanover Junction again last weekend, but death came last Sunday, July 26.

She liked to recount the story, told to her by her parents, about the days she spent during the Battle of Gettysburg in the cellar of the Jennie Wade House. Susie, then two, was taken to the basement of the home where Jennie Wade was baking bread when a bullet struck her as she stepped to the door.

Miss McClain said that her mother had moved her, the four other McClain children and their grandfather to the basement, where they stayed with the body of Jennie Wade until the battle was over. Her father, Isaac McClain, a Union soldier, had been killed the month before.

Miss McClain was a retired dressmaker.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the Ahrens Funeral Home, Baltimore. Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Ignatius Church. Interment was in the New Cathedral Cemetery.

Fairfield Shoe Company Plant Is Destroyed By Fire Of Undetermined Origin On Sunday; Loss Unofficially Estimated At $1,500,000

A. L. WOLFE, 78, STOREKEEPER AT KINGSDALE, DIES

Abraham L. Wolfe, 78, who operated a general store with his son for many years at Kingsdale, died very suddenly this morning at 5 o'clock at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Wolfe, Lumber St., Littlestown.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was due to a heart attack. Mr. Wolfe had been under a doctor's care for some time but his death today was very sudden.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wolfe, he operated the general store at Kingsdale for many years under the name of A. L. Wolfe and Son.

Services Wednesday

He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, the Littlestown lodges of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and the Ancient Order of the Knight of the Mystic Chain and the Kingsdale Fire Company.

His wife, the former, Cora Fisher, died December 30, 1939.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Irvin Ecker, also of Lumber St.; and Edgar A. Wolfe, at whose home he died; eight grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren and one great, great-grandchild; one sister, Mrs. Ada Hull, Hanover; two half-sisters and a half-brother, Norman Hull, New Oxford; Mrs. Gertrude Warehime, Littlestown, and Claude Wolfe, Westminster R. 1.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Church with the body to lie in state from 1 p.m. until the hour of the funeral. His pastor, the Rev. William C. Karna, will officiate. Interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery. Friends may call Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Little Funeral Home.

Campfire Pictures Draw 200 Sunday

Approximately 200 attended the second Campfire program of the season Sunday evening although threatening weather forced the crowd into the Cyclorama.

The pictures shown were "Fallen Eagle," the story of the Sioux Indian, and "Pueblo Heritage," which covered Mesa, Zuni and other Indian history highlights in the southwest.

Next Sunday evening there will be a reel of color motion pictures on Glacier National Park and then a series of slides by John Schwartz on Rocky Mountain National Park and Mt. Rainier.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Fairfield Shoe Company plant shortly after 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, despite the combined efforts of fire-fighters from eight fire companies. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

The conflagration is a serious blow to Fairfield as it means the loss of employment, at least temporarily, for 400 men and women.

However, the plant will be rebuilt just as soon as possible, Sigmund Spiegel, New York City, who arrived in Gettysburg late Sunday evening, told The Gettysburg Times this morning.

A fire company official estimated the loss in the neighborhood of $1,500,000. It is said to be covered by insurance. Part of the loss was a sizable stock of leather.

The 400 employees made 7,200 pairs of shoes a day in the 100 by 250 foot plant.

Discovered By Watchman

The mysterious blaze was discovered by Edgar W. Brown, 56, watchman at the plant. He had been with the company about a year. Mr. Brown said that he had just completed his 3:30 o'clock round of the plant, inspecting the factory and punching the time clocks. He said, "I had just reached the cutters and had turned to look back when something blew up and flames almost immediately spread all over the place. They even seemed to come out of the ceiling. I rang the fire alarm and then crawled out of the building on my hands and knees, the smoke was that bad."

Miss Helen McCleaf, a teacher in the Fairfield school, who resides with her mother, Mrs. Fannie McCleaf, across the street from the factory, said that she was on her porch when she saw smoke coming out of the blower at the factory. Then she saw flames and called the fire department. A telephone operator said that the Fairfield Fire Department responded to the alarm in about one minute.

Save Nearby Home

The efforts of the Fairfield firemen seemed feeble against the roaring inferno. Flames broke out all over the building and were beyond control from the discovery of the blaze.

The Gettysburg Fire Department was summoned at 4:45 o'clock and responded with four pieces of equipment, the ladder truck, service truck, Mack and No. 6 pumper. About 60 Gettysburg firemen helped fight the blaze.

Most of their attention was concentrated on the adjoining properties. They helped save the Francis Schultz residence, across the narrow alley from the burning plant. A large chicken house in the rear of Schultz's home also was saved.

Water Supply Gave Out

Fire Chief Harper Hiner, of Fairfield, said he could not account for the blaze and could give no estimate of the amount of damage.

Ignatius Angelo, superintendent who resides across the street from the factory, had returned on Friday from a vacation in Maine. On Sunday he took his family on a picnic and was not in Fairfield when the fire broke out. He said he was in his automobile when he heard an announcement over WGET that a severe fire had broken out in Fairfield and that a number of fire companies had been summoned. He said he suspected it might be the shoe factory and started for home. He was at a loss to understand what caused the fire. "I am glad, however, that there was no loss of life," he said.

Firemen laid water lines from a pond near the factory but soon this supply of water gave out and several lines were laid in relay and water was pumped from Middle Creek (Flat Run) to the fire. Firemen kept several streams on the burning structure which was beyond saving shortly after the alarm was sounded. Then the firemen joined others in playing water on nearby structures. Paint on homes across the street from the conflagration was scorched.

Officials See Damage

Other fire departments summoned to the blaze were: Fountaine, with one truck; Cashtown, 2; Emmitsburg, 1; Blue Ridge Summit, 1; Barlow, 1; and Fort Ritchie, 1; Fairfield used both of its trucks. Bonneville Firemen went to the scene of the blaze Sunday night to relieve one of the departments. They remained until 2:30 o'clock this morning.

P. C. Musselman and his son, Robert, Fairfield, went to the burning building after the watchman had crawled out and used fire extinguishers but to no avail. Robert Weikert, also of Fairfield, was treated for burns when he attempted to fight the blaze.

Theodore Frank, of New York City, is president of the Company, Sigmund Spiegel, of New York City, one of the owners of the Company, and Irving Mansner, of Harrisburg, arrived in Gettysburg late Sunday night and conferred at the Hotel Gettysburg with other company officials. This morning they went to Fairfield to inspect the damage. Bruno Roedi, 635 Highland Ave., is secretary-treasurer of the company.

Another Alarm

The factory was a one-story structure and the offices occupied a two-story section at the front. Women's casual shoes, leather and imitation leather, were made at the plant. A warehouse, well-stocked with shoes was saved. It is located across the rear alley of the plant. The company operates another shoe factory at Dillsburg.

ON TV PROGRAM

Connie Lea Stallsmith, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stallsmith, Biglerville, will do acrobatic stunts on Bailey's Goss' amateur hour over WMAR-TV, Baltimore, Channel 2, Thursday evening at 10:30 o'clock.

The women of Fairfield joined to make sandwiches and coffee for the firemen, they worked far into the night.

Firemen estimated that a 4,000 foot relay was set up to bring water from Flat Run. They added that about 10,000 feet of hose were used in fighting the flames.

Emmitsburg

LIONS' SPEAKER

President Clarence Hahn presided at the semi-monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held recently in the Lutheran Parish House. Three guests were present, Rev. Philip Bower, Dr. C. R. Williams and Harry Reinhold of Taneytown.

Secretary-treasurer Robert E. Daugherty gave a report to date on the progress of the coming Horse Show and Herbert W. Roger, chairman of the advertising committee for the show, also gave a report of progress and called a special meeting. Judges for the show have been selected and were announced as the Thomas Mott Sr. and Jr. of the Eastern Shore.

Philip B. Sharpe spoke on the benefit ball game sponsored by the Community Fund and tickets were distributed to the Lions. An invitation from the Taneytown Lions Club was extended the group to attend its annual crab feast on August 11 at that place.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Dr. Charles R. Williams, who recently established his medical practice here. Dr. Williams, a veteran of the past two wars, projected colored pictures of interesting points he visited while in Japan and Okinawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagaman and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Sanders and family of Fairfield have returned to their homes after visiting several days with Samuel Wagaman and family in Tennessee. On the trip south they toured Virginia and West Virginia and on the return they stopped at Fort Knox and traveled through Kentucky to Cincinnati, Ohio. The trip covered more than 2,000 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Koontz and family, Union City, N. J., are spending a three-week vacation with relatives here.

Henry Bollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bollinger, Emmitsburg R. 2, left Wednesday from New York by boat on a tour of Europe. He expects to be gone about eight weeks.

Dr. James W. Macdonald, Pittsburgh, visited recently with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dillon Jr., Emmitsburg.

American automobile drivers burn enough gasoline over a holiday week-end this year to fill 35 fully laden, average-size tank ships according to the National Federation of Shipping.

MISS MILLER IS BRIDE SATURDAY

Miss Barbara Jean Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Miller, Fairfield R. 2, became the bride of William David McKenrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Plaurus McKenrick, Biglerville R. 2, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Ignace Catholic Church, Buchanan Valley, Rev. Fr. Raymond E. Dougherty, assistant pastor, performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. Kermit Kane served as altar boy. The organist was Sarah Strassbaugh, great aunt of the groom.

The bride wore a full-skirted pale blue nylon street-length dress with a form-fitting bodice, navy and white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Robert Powell, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor. She wore a sheer print dress, navy accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Joseph Lawrence Miller, brother of the bride, was the best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy sheer dress and white accessories and the groom's mother wore a flowered sheer dress and navy accessories.

A luncheon was served immediately following the ceremony by the groom's mother. Mrs. McKenrick was graduated from Gettysburg High School in June. Her husband, who attended the local high school, is employed by Rice, Trew and Rice, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenrick are at home at 21 Steinwehr Ave.

UPPER COUNTY

The best man was Robert Corder, York R. 9. Eugene Chronister, Gardner R. 1, a brother of the bride, and Donald Kline, Gardner R. 1, were ushers.

Miss Susan Jane Chronister, a sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore yellow net over satin with a floral headpiece and carried a basket of mixed gladioli.

For the ceremony the church was decorated with white gladioli and ferns. Mrs. Robert W. Rhodes sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told," "I Love You Truly," "Because," "Through the Years" and during the ceremony, the "Lord's Prayer." Janet Blumberg was organist.

The bride's mother wore navy and white with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white gladioli. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue with black accessories and a pink and white gladioli corsage.

One hundred guests attended the reception held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The bride's table had a three-tier wedding cake and double candelabra and was decorated in pink and white with green ferns.

The couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination after which they will reside with the bride's parents. The bride is a graduate of York Springs High School and the York School of Beauty Culture. The bridegroom attended York Springs High School and is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad at Harrisburg.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Noel, Reading, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mengel, Alburt.

In Wedding Party

police were on duty for hours in connection with the handling of the heavy traffic to Fairfield. Officials complimented the fire police for the manner in which they handled the traffic, practically isolating the town to permit fire trucks to work unhindered on the streets, where traffic was diverted to the Orranna Road and others, to bypass the community. Parking spaces were found outside the town for those who came to see the fire.

Gettysburg firemen were called to another blaze at 7 o'clock Sunday night at the home of Melvin Cool, Biglerville R. 1, near Stone Jug. Firemen said a tree, whipped by heavy winds, tore high tension wires off the pole and dropped into a field setting fire to the grass. Some nearby firemen were alerted while Gettysburg's last pieces of firefighting equipment was at the Cool residence.

One reason for calling so many other departments was the threat to the entire town of Fairfield. Flames and smoke belched 75 feet in the air and if a sudden wind developed the entire town would have been threatened.

Fairfield residents started discussing, again, the need for a water supply system for the town and have called a town meeting tonight.

4 INJURED IN 7 ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND

Four persons were injured, none apparently seriously, in a series of seven traffic accidents in Adams County over the weekend. Six of the mishaps occurred on Route 15, north and south of Gettysburg. The damage to cars involved totaled more than $1,500, state police from the Gettysburg substation reported after their investigations.

Two persons were injured and more than $1,200 damage caused Sunday evening at 8:25 o'clock at the York Springs intersection when three cars collided on wet and very slippery highways.

The cars involved were operated by Charles Aaron Rohrbach, 30, Littlestown R. 2; Chester Franklin Shuey, 35, Frederick, Md.; and William George Tull Jr., 24, Interlaken R. 2, N. Y.

Blame Wet Road

Tull was headed north and stopped behind a pickup truck that was waiting to make a left turn onto the Carlisle Highway. Rohrbach, also going north, applied his brakes but skidded on the wet road and struck the left rear of the Tull car. Then his car crossed the highway and crashed into the front of the southbound Shuey machine.

Mrs. Mildred C. Rohrbach, 29, Littlestown R. 2, wife of the driver of the Littlestown car, was taken to the Warner Hospital with a sprained right ankle and contusions and lacerations of the forehead. Shirley Troxell, 17, also an occupant of the Rohrbach car, suffered a sprained left thumb.

Damage to the Rohrbach car was placed at $700; $500 to Shuey and $10 to the Tull machine.

Second Crash At Scene

While state police were investigating the three-car crash at the York Springs intersection, a car operated by George James Valles, Milwaukee, Wis., skidded out of control on the wet road a short distance south of the intersection on the hill side and struck an embankment. The accident occurred about 9:10 p.m. and (Continued On Page 3)

HERE DURING BATTLE, DIES AT 92 IN BALTIMORE

Word has been received here of the death of Miss Susie McClain, Baltimore. She was one of the honored guests at the Lincoln celebration held over the Memorial Day weekend at Hanover Junction.

Miss McClain, who was 92, was expected to visit Hanover Junction again last weekend, but death came last Sunday, July 26.

She liked to recount the story, told to her by her parents, about the days she spent during the Battle of Gettysburg in the cellar of the Jennie Wade House. Susie, then two, was taken to the basement of the home where Jennie Wade was baking bread when a bullet struck her as she stepped to the door.

Miss McClain said that her mother had moved her, the four other McClain children and their grandfather to the basement, where they stayed with the body of Jennie Wade until the battle was over. Her father, Isaac McClain, a Union soldier, had been killed the month before.

Miss McClain was a retired dressmaker.

The funeral was held Wednesday from the Ahrens Funeral Home, Baltimore. Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Ignatius Church, Interment was in the New Cathedral Cemetery.

Over 9,300 Visit Park Over Weekend

Another weekend of heavy visitation on the Gettysburg Battlefield by tourists from many parts of the nation went into the records here Sunday evening.

National Cemetery Superintendent John Riddle, who keeps the travel records, said that on Saturday 4,066 toured the field in cars and 47 others made the trip in two buses. Sunday's figures were 5,040 by auto and 153 in four buses for a weekend total of 9,306.

R. TRIMMER, 62, IS FOUND DEAD AT HOME SUNDAY

Ralph M. Trimmer, 62, for a number of years an employee at the Gettysburg Steam Laundry, was found dead at his home along the Fairfield Rd., Gettysburg R. 2, Sunday morning about 4 o'clock.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was due to coronary occlusion. Mr. Trimmer's lifeless body was found in the bathroom of his home. He had been in ill health for about six years following his first heart attack. Other attacks had followed.

Mr. Trimmer was a native of Butler Twp. and was son of late Samuel and Savannah (Cullison) Trimmer. He had moved to Gettysburg 17 years ago from Biglerville and had worked most of the time since coming here at the local laundry. He had been employed briefly at York but ill health forced his retirement. His wife was the former Alma Teach.

These children survive: Ralph Jr., York; Fred R., Gettysburg R. 2; Mrs. Harold Heiges, Gettysburg; Mrs. Donald Olinger, Harrisburg; Mrs. John Collins Philadelphia, and Mrs. George Johanningsmeier, Gettysburg. One brother, Edward, Gettysburg, and a sister Mrs. Edward Myers, also of Gettysburg, survive. There are a number of grandchildren.

Two Views Of Disastrous Blaze

MERCHANTS PLEASED WITH "SALES DAYS"

"Gettysburg's third annual Sales Days, sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association, were the most successful, financially, we have ever held," Harold Reuning, president of the association, said today. From the opening of the stores of the participating merchants Friday morning until closing hours Saturday evening, merchants reported a steady flow of patrons who in turn took occasion to comment on the wide variety of merchandise bargains offered this year.

Six grand prizes were awarded by the merchants and in addition more than 75 prizes were awarded by the merchants in their own stores.

Mr. Reuning said that patrons came from a greater distance this year than ever before.

Prize Winners

Winners of the more than 75 merchants' awards will be published Tuesday. Winners of the six major awards were as follows:

First Prize, "Quiet Cool" 1/2 H.P. Room Air Conditioner—Mrs. M. Stambaugh, Orrtanna R. 2; second prize, Westinghouse 220 volt clothes dryer—Carroll Redding, R. 4; third prize, Daystrom Chrome Breakfast Set—Mary Walhay, R. 2; fourth prize, $50.00 in cash donated by The Gettysburg National Bank—R. Hardman, Biglerville; fifth prize, $50 in gift certificates—D. Greco, Emmitsburg; sixth prize, $25 in gift certificates to Richard D. Heintzelman, 102 East Middle St.

Forty Hours Being Held At Paradise

Forty Hours Devotions for the Paradise Protective parish opened Sunday morning with the 8:30 o'clock mass. Father George Zorn, who has been assigned to the New Oxford parish during the illness of the pastor, Fr. Philip Zergen, is in charge of the Forty Hours.

There will be a service this evening at 7 o'clock and masses Tuesday morning at 5:30 and 8 o'clock. The closing service will be held Tuesday at 7 p.m. with a procession of priests from nearby parishes and men of the Holy Name Society. The service will close with the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The pastor, the Rev. Fr. Francis L. Mignot, will assist with the special services.

Shoe Workers Ask For Jobless Pay

More than 100 Fairfield Shoe Company employees appeared at the State Employment Service office this morning to file applications for unemployment compensation.

Lawrence Cummins, office manager, said that if they qualify on other scores their unemployment because of the fire that destroyed the Fairfield plant on Sunday will make them eligible for compensation.

The maximum any individual could receive, Mr. Cummins said, would be $30 a week for 26 weeks. Mr. Cummins said he expects few will be able to qualify for that maximum amount. Each worker's compensation is computed on the basis of the individual's employment record.

MEET AT CASHTOWN

The Gettysburg Rotary Club will meet this evening at 6:30 o'clock at Banker's Restaurant, near Cashtown.

U.N. Makes Trial Run With 150 Allied Soldiers Of Program For Release Of 3,313 Yankees

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command staged an elaborate trial run today of the machinery which will speed 3,313 Americans and other Allied prisoners of the Korean War home-ward in a mass exchange starting Wednesday.

One hundred and fifty Allied soldiers played the role of liberated POWs in the dress rehearsal and actually were moved from the exchange point at Panmunjom to the port of Inchon, where United States-bound troop ships awaited the actual exchange.

Allied and Communist Red Cross representatives, meanwhile, cleared the way for the first joint inspection of North and South Korean prisoner camps.

They signed an agreement—at first opposed by the Reds—to enable the 60-man teams to begin their work at 9 a. m. Tuesday (7 p. m. EST, Monday). Red Cross teams of Americans, Danes and British will pass legally north of the Communist Iron Curtain for the first time, while teams of Chinese and North Koreans cross to the south.

The agreement allows the Allied Red Cross teams to visit Red POW

FIRST RETREAT AT M. ST. MARY'S CLOSES SUNDAY

The first of the five annual retreats conducted at Mt. St. Mary's College for the men of the Harrisburg diocese closed with the Papal Blessing and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The retreat was opened Friday evening with an address delivered by Bishop George L. Leach. The retreat master for all the retreats this year is Rev. Fr. Michael Weller, of St. Mary's College, St. Mary, Ky., a member of the order of the Resurrectionist Fathers.

UPPER COUNTY COUPLE IS WED IN EAST BERLIN

Joy Elizabeth Chronister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chronister, Gardners R. 1, became the bride of Daniel Paul Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kramer, also of Gardners R. 1, at Zwings Reform Church, East Berlin, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard Sheaffer, assisted by the Rev. Stuart Bortner.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Chantilly lace over satin strapless gown with bolero, long sleeves and cuffs ending in points. Her headpiece was of white satin with orange blossoms and seed pearls from which fell a three-quarter length veil. She carried a mixed bouquet of white gladioli and lilies.

Charlene Broush, East Berlin, the maid of honor, wore an aqua gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin, with matching hat and mitts and (Continued on Page 2)

First Riding School For Kiddies Tuesday

The first session of the riding school for children of members of the Gettysburg Riding Club will be held Tuesday evening from 6:30 o'clock until dark at the Winebrenner Farm, near the Peace Light Inn.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner will be the instructor for the first session and will teach English riding. Later sessions will cover Western riding and other phases of horsemanship.

The school for youngsters is sponsored by the Riding Club to encourage interest in the sport among the children and to make the facilities of the club available to the junior riders.

A Communist proposal to keep the 60-man joint teams out of the prisoner camps themselves was flatly rejected by the U. N. Command. (Continued On Page 2)

Fairfield Shoe Company Plant Is Destroyed By Fire Of Undetermined Origin On Sunday; Loss Unofficially Estimated At $1,500,000

A. L. WOLFE, 78, STOREKEEPER AT KINGSDALE, DIES

Abraham L. Wolfe, 78, who operated a general store with his son for many years at Kingsdale, died very suddenly this morning at 5 o'clock at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Wolfe, Lumber St., Littlestown.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was due to a heart attack. Mr. Wolfe had been under a doctor's care for some time but his death today was very sudden.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wolfe, he operated the general store at Kingsdale for many years under the name of A. L. Wolfe and Son.

Services Wednesday

He was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church, the Littlestown Lodge of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and the Ancient Order of the Knight of the Mystic Chain and the Kingsdale Fire Company.

His wife, the former, Cora Fisher, died December 30, 1939.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. Irvin Ecker, also of Lumber St.; and Edgar A. Wolfe, at whose home he died; eight grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren and one great, great-grandchild; one sister, Mrs. Ada Hull, Hanover; two half-sisters and a half-brother, Mrs. Norman Hull, New Oxford; Mrs. Gertrude Warehime, Littlestown, and Claude Wolfe, Westminster R. 1.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Church with the body to lie in state from 1 p.m. until the hour of the funeral. His pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, will officiate. Interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery. Friends may call Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the Little Funeral Home.

Campfire Pictures Draw 200 Sunday

Approximately 200 attended the second Campfire program of the season Sunday evening although threatening weather forced the crowd into the Cyclorama.

The pictures shown were "Fallen Eagle," the story of the Sioux Indian, and "Pueblo Heritage," which covered Mesa, Zuni and other Indian history highlights in the southwest.

Next Sunday evening there will be a reel of color motion pictures on Glacier National Park and then a series of slides by John Schwartz on Rocky Mountain National Park and Mt. Rainier.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Fairfield Shoe Company plant shortly after 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, despite the combined efforts of fire-fighters from eight fire companies. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

The conflagration is a serious blow to Fairfield as it means the loss of employment, at least temporarily, for 400 men and women.

However, the plant will be rebuilt just as soon as possible, Sigmund Spiegel, New York City, who arrived in Gettysburg late Sunday evening, told The Gettysburg Times this morning.

A fire company official estimated the loss in the neighborhood of $1,500,000. It is said to be covered by insurance. Part of the loss was a sizable stock of leather.

The 400 employees made 7,200 pairs of shoes a day in the 100 by 250 foot plant.

Discovered By Watchman

The mysterious blaze was discovered by Edgar W. Brown, 56, watchman at the plant. He had been with the company about a year. Mr. Brown said that he had just completed his 3:30 o'clock round of the plant, inspecting the factory and punching the time clocks. He said, "I had just reached the cutters and had turned to look back when something blew up and flames almost immediately spread all over the place. They even seemed to come out of the ceiling. I rang the fire alarm and then crawled out of the building on my hands and knees, the smoke was that bad."

Miss Helen McCleaf, a teacher in the Fairfield school, who resides with her mother, Mrs. Fannie McCleaf, across the street from the factory, said that she was on her porch when she saw smoke coming out of the blower at the factory. Then she saw flames and called the fire department. A telephone operator said that the Fairfield Fire Department responded to the alarm in about one minute.

Save Nearby Home

The efforts of the Fairfield firemen seemed feeble against the roaring inferno. Flames broke out all over the building and were beyond control from the discovery of the blaze.

The Gettysburg Fire Department was summoned at 4:45 o'clock and responded with four pieces of equipment, the ladder truck, service truck, Mack and No. 6 pumper. About 60 Gettysburg firemen helped fight the blaze.

Most of their attention was concentrated on the adjoining properties. They helped save the Francis Schultz residence, across the narrow alley from the burning plant. A large chicken house in the rear of Schultz's home also was saved.

Water Supply Gave Out

Fire Chief Harper Hiner, of Fairfield, said he could not account for the blaze and could give no estimate of the amount of damage.

Ignatius Angelo, superintendent who resides across the street from the factory, had returned on Friday from a vacation in Maine. On Sunday he took his family on a picnic and was not in Fairfield when the fire broke out. He said he was in his automobile when he heard an announcement over WGET that a severe fire had broken out in Fairfield and that a number of fire companies had been summoned. He said he suspected it might be the shoe factory and started for home. He was at a loss to understand what caused the fire. "I am glad, however, that there was no loss of life," he said.

Firemen laid water lines from a pond near the factory but soon this supply of water gave out and several lines were laid in relay and water was pumped from Middle Creek (Flat Run) to the fire. Firemen kept several streams on the burning structure which was beyond saving shortly after the alarm was sounded. Then the firemen joined others in playing water on nearby structures. Paint on homes across the street from the conflagration was scorched.

Officials See Damage

Other fire departments summoned to the blaze were: Fountaindale, with one truck; Cashtown, 2; Emmitsburg, 1; Blue Ridge Summit, 1; Barlow, 1; and Fort Ritchie, 1; Fairfield used both of its trucks. Bonneville firemen went to the scene of the blaze Sunday night to relieve one of the departments. They remained until 2:30 o'clock this morning.

P. C. Musselman and his son, Robert, Fairfield, went to the burning building after the watchman had crawled out and used fire extinguishers but to no avail. Robert Weikert, also of Fairfield, was treated for burns when he attempted to fight the blaze.

Theodore Frank, of New York City, is president of the Company, Sigmund Spiegel, of New York City, one of the owners of the Company, and Irving Mansner, of Harrisburg, arrived in Gettysburg late Sunday night and conferred at the Hotel Gettysburg with other company officials. This morning they went to Fairfield to inspect the damage. Bruno Roedi, 635 Highland Ave., is secretary-treasurer of the company.

Another Alarm

The factory was a one-story structure and the offices occupied a two-story section at the front. Women's casual shoes, leather and imitation leather, were made at the plant. A warehouse, well-stocked with shoes was saved. It is located across the rear alley of the plant. The company operates another shoe factory at Dillsburg.

ON TV PROGRAM

Connie Lea Stallsmith, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stallsmith, Biglerville, will do acrobatic stunts on Bailey's Goss' amateur hour over WMAR-TV, Baltimore, Channel 2, Thursday evening at 10:30 o'clock.

Firemen estimated that a 4,000 foot relay was set up to bring water from Flat Run. They added that about 10,000 feet of hose were used in fighting the flames.

The women of Fairfield joined to make sandwiches and coffee for the firemen, they worked far into the night.

Firemen's Carnival Opens This Evening At Littlestown

The Alpha Fire Company carnival will open this evening on the playground. The carnival will continue all week and there will be rides, concessions, refreshments, entertainment, games, etc.

The special entertainment scheduled for tonight will be Bunny and the Sunset Valley Rangers of Hanover. On Tuesday evening Earl Phillips and the Buckboard Ramblers, Hanover, will provide entertainment.

The Rev. Dr. H. D. Heim, head of the department of religious education at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, was the guest minister at St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning. He will also be in charge of the service next Sunday, during the absence of the pastor, the Rev. William C. Harris.

The Fellowship and Attendance Committee consisting of Clarence R. Beck, chairman, Lloyd L. Staveland, Charles E. Rabenstein, Charles E. Ritter, Richard A. Little and Arthur E. Bair will be in charge of the program at the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club on Tuesday evening, 6:15 p.m., at Schorke's Hotel.

Plan S. S. Picnic
The annual Sunday School picnic of the Centenary Methodist Church will be held on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Furrow, near town. Lunch will be provided by the committee. There will be swimming and games for the children. Those desiring transportation should meet at the church by 1:45 p.m. on Saturday.

At the Sunday morning worship service in the Centenary Methodist Church, the pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, made the following announcements: Monday, August 10, 7 p.m., the meeting of the Junior Fellowship will be resumed at the church. Mrs. Robert Cray and Mrs. Albert H. Miller Jr. will be in charge of the meetings. All children and youth of the church are invited to attend; Wednesday, August 12, 7:30 p.m., the first quarterly conference will be held at the church, with Dr. F. LaMont Hemminger, district superintendent, Harrisburg, presiding. Sunday, August 30, will be vacation Sunday at the Methodist Church.

The Rev. John W. Kammerer, pastor of the Lutheran Church in Carlisle, was the guest minister at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning. The Rev. Leon J. Haines, Baltimore, will be the guest preacher next Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Arthur E. Bair taught the lesson in the entire adult department of the Sunday School yesterday.

Invitation To Delone
The Rev. Fr. William Lyons, principal of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, has invited the men of St. Aloysius Parish who have a few free hours of daytime in the evening to visit the school and assist with the painting and decorating of several classrooms. The announcement was made by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan at the Sunday morning masses. Father Shanahan also announced that a large amount of building is being done in the Harrisburg Diocese and anyone in the parish desiring to lend money to the Mission Board at a two and a half per cent interest is invited to do so. The minimum investment that will be accepted is a hundred dollars, and the investments will be used to carry on the building enterprise.

Daily mass in St. Aloysius Church this week will begin at 7:50 a.m. Confessions on Thursday will be heard from 4 to 4:30 and 7 to 7:30 p.m. Holy communion will be distributed outside of mass on Friday at 5:45 and 7:05 a.m., and mass will begin at 7:30 a.m.

Announce Guest Preacher
"The Prodigal Son" was the subject of the sermon presented by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds at the Sunday morning worship service in Redeemer's Reformed Church. The gospel lesson was taken from Luke 15:11-24 and the epistle lesson from 1 Corinthians 10:16-17. A vocal solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," Lucie, was sung by Stewart N. Long, accompanied by Ferree LeFevre, church organist. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Dr. Arthur C. Richards, who lost his life in Korea and was buried in the National Cemetery, Gettysburg, on Friday.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds announced that the Rev. J. Alfred Fryer, pastor of Memorial Reformed Church, Sunday, August 9. The Rev. Theodore Woodrow Boltz, pastor of the Livingston Avenue Reformed Church, New Brunswick, N. J., and pastor of Redeemer's Church from 1942-1946, will be the guest minister on August 16.

4 INJURED IN

caused about $25 damage. No one was injured.

State Police said a charge will be filed against James E. Day, 41, York R. D., driver of a car which ran off the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Rd., a mile north of the Maryland line about 11 o'clock Saturday evening and struck a poulder.

Day, his wife and another occupant of the car escaped injury but damage to the car was estimated at about $100. Day was driving north when the crash occurred. His car ran off the east side of the highway.

Child Dozes And Car Upsets

When a 69-year-old driver tried to place his dozing two-year-old grandson in a more comfortable position as they drove along the Lincoln Highway Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, his car ran off the highway, struck a pole and turned over, state police reported.

The driver was Amos Rohrbach,

29 W. Hanover St., Hanover, and the child was J. Allen Reed, Gettysburg R. 2. The police said Rohrbach told them he reached over to lay the child on the seat after he had fallen asleep. The car went out of control and off the south side of the highway. Rohrbach was headed east on the old section of Route 30 about 300 feet west of its intersection with the new road near McKnightstown.

The boy was treated for a scalp laceration at the Warner Hospital but Mr. Rohrbach and another grandson, Jack Reed, aged five, were unhurt although the car was practically demolished. Damage was placed at about $150.

Boy Hit At Park

Ronald DeGroot, aged four, Littlestown R. 1, was taken to the Warner Hospital where he was admitted and held for observation after the child ran in front of a car operated by James A. Groot, 296 McSherrystown at Marsh Creek Park along the Emmitsburg Rd.

The accident occurred about 12:30 p.m. Sunday and was investigated by state police. The boy's injuries may not be more serious than abrasions of the right leg.

Something "Popped"

Another accident on Route 15 occurred about 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning about four miles north of York Springs.

Anne C. Crocker, 37, Anderson, S. C., told state police "something" seemed to pop in the front part of her pickup truck and it went out of control and ran off the highway. She and her son escaped injury but damage to the truck was placed at about $100.

A $375 accident occurred on the Emmitsburg Rd. at 7 o'clock on Sunday morning, four miles south of here when a truck operated by Helen Dersham, 44, Duncannon, Pa., struck the rear of a car operated by Carrie B. Fische, 39, Gettysburg R. 2. The Fische car was slowing for a turn off the highway when the Duncannon truck came up back of it and struck it in the rear when the operator was unable to stop on the road made slippery by a light drizzle that was falling at the time. Damage to the truck was placed at $300 and to the Fische car, $75. No one was hurt in the crash.

PUSH SEARCH FOR KILLER OF TRUCK DRIVERS

PITTSBURGH (P)—Pennsylvania and Ohio police pushed a relentless search today for the maniac who killed two truck drivers and wounded another as they slept in the cabs of their vehicles.

During the weekend, Ohio authorities said ballistics examinations showed that John E. Shepherd, 34, of West Alexander, Pa., apparently was shot with the same 32 caliber pistol used in the two turnpike slayings.

Shepherd, wounded last Friday near Leason, O., a few miles from the I-76 entrance to the super toll highway, is recovering but still unable to give a coherent account of just what happened.

Three days before Shepherd was shot, Harry F. Potts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., was killed as he slept in his truck on the turnpike.

Offer $11,000 Reward

The outbreak of slayings began July 26. Lester B. Woodward, 30, of near Harrisburg, was slain. His body was found about 30 miles from the scene of the Potts slaying. Truck associations and unions have offered rewards totaling $11,000 for the turnpike slayer.

Latest, state police reported to police involved a trucker who said he was snatched for 15 miles yesterday by the driver of a "yellow or tan" Chevrolet station wagon.

Charles E. Watts of Lawrenceburg, Ind., told state police the station wagon began following him at 1:30 a. m. yesterday on Route 122-422 several miles west of Reading.

Watts first noticed the station wagon when he stopped for a light. It pulled alongside the truck and the driver stared at him, Watts said.

The truck moved slowly when the light changed, but the station wagon would not pass. Watts stopped twice at diners for coffee, and each time the station wagon did too, parking at the far end of the diner lots.

Work Resumed At New Steel Plant

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (P)—The turnarounds at U. S. Steel's new Fairless works near here are back in operation today after a brief strike of some 3,000 production and maintenance workers was called off.

The workers began returning to their jobs late Saturday night after a two-day walkout. Company officials said normal operations would be resumed on a schedule "consistent with orderly and safe procedure."

The workers are members of the CIO United Steelworkers of America. A union spokesman termed the strike unauthorized. Dissatisfaction over the progress of contract negotiations was blamed for the strike.

Each one of the peaks surrounding Mullins Lake, now named the "Queen Elizabeth Ranges," is more than 10,000 feet high, and the entire area in Alberta is regarded as one of Canada's top scenic attractions.

38, about 5-foot-10, 135 pounds, with light brown or near-blond hair. Very clean, he wore brown trousers and a sport shirt.

The trucker said he lost the station wagon in Pottstown. He did not get the license number.

Learning about the turnpike murders when he reached Philadelphia, Watts then told police his story, and descriptions of the station wagon and its driver were put on the police teletype.

Meanwhile, truckers were working "the buddy system" to the full for fear the midnight murderer or the turnpike might strike again.

Urged by police and trucking associations, the drivers were not parking alone along lonely stretches of the toll road. And truckers seeing another truck halted for mechanical trouble were stopping and remaining with the driver until he could continue.

MISS MILLER IS BRIDE SATURDAY

Miss Barbara Jean Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Miller, Fairfield R. 2, became the bride of William David McKenrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Plavins McKenrick, Biglerville R. D. Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Ignatius Catholic Church, Buchanan Valley. Rev. Fr. Raymond E. Dougherty, assistant pastor, performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. Kermit Kane served as altar boy. The organist was Sarah Strausbaugh, great aunt of the groom.

The bride wore a full-skirted pale blue nylon street-length dress with a form-fitting bodice, navy and white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mrs. Robert Powell, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor. She wore a sheer print dress, navy accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Joseph Lawrence Miller, brother of the bride, was the best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy sheer dress and white accessories and the groom's mother wore a flowered sheer dress and navy accessories.

A luncheon was served immediately following the ceremony by the groom's mother. Mrs. McKenrick was graduated from Gettysburg High School in June. Her husband, who attended the local high school, is employed by Rice, Trew and Rice, Biglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenrick are at home at 21 Steinwehr Ave.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Church Dedication: The new Roman Catholic Church in this place (St. Francis Xavier's) was on Sunday dedicated to the service of God by the Rev. Dr. Neumann, Bishop of Philadelphia. The assemblage of strangers on the occasion was very large.

Married: On the 2d inst. by the Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. Jacob Muncy to Miss Margaret Bieseker, both of Frankforton township.

We are pleased to learn that the disease which had broken out at Philadelphia, communicated by a vessel which had arrived there from New Orleans, has somewhat abated, and the panic subsided in some degree.

Health of Emmitsburg: We learn that there have been several deaths in that village during the past week—amongst them Dr. Augustine Toney, a gentleman of high reputation as a man and as a physician; and Mrs. Andrew, long and favorably known as the proprietress of the hotel there. The latter was ill but a few hours. There would appear, therefore, to be some disease, of more than ordinary malignancy prevailing there.

Died: In Leesburg, Va., on Monday evening, after a very short illness, George M. Griest, son of Cyrus Griest, of this county. He had left his father's house a few days previously for Virginia, and on the way suffered several days with diarrhea of a malignant type. On Sunday he walked ten miles through the excessive heat of the sun, and immediately on his arrival at Leesburg, he was violently attacked, and though the best medical attention was secured, he died on the following evening at 6 o'clock. Every attention was paid him by those around him. His body was sent to his friends, accompanied by some citizens.

Childrens Shoes, the best assortment in town, at K. Kurtz's

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Scholarship: The Gettysburg School Board, at their meeting on Thursday evening, awarded the Thompsonian scholarship in Pennsylvania College to S. Anderson Wolf, son of Mr. J. Geo. Wolf, of this place.

Sales: The farm of George Hollibaugh, deceased, in Butler township, was sold on Saturday to Franklin C. Rice—120 acres for $3,192.75.

Levi E. Stallsmith has purchased a lot of ground on York street from Mr. Henry Culp, of P., at $300 and will erect a house on it shortly.

E. M. Ziegler has purchased a house on York street from the First National Bank at $1,200.

This is the season of the year when the average shopkeeper takes no interest in business and takes very little money over his counter. He doesn't want to be bothered with business, and wisely refrains from advertising his wares.

Married: Miller—Beaman, Aug. 1, by Rev. Dr. Steck, A. J. Miller, of Reading township, to Miss Alice Beaman, of Arundsville.

Myers—Mehring, Aug. 1st, by Rev. E. D. Weigle, Henry W. Myers to Miss Alberta M. Mehning, both of Littlestown.

Roth—Plank, Aug. 1st, by Rev. Jacob Seidler, Dr. Leander A. Roth, of Spring Grove, York county, to Miss Sallie Rosema Plank, of Adams county.

The corner-stone of the new Lutheran Church (St. Matthew's at Hanover) was laid on Saturday afternoon with interesting services. Rev. Drs. May and Valentine, of this place, delivered discourses, the former in German, the latter in English.

Hart Gilbert, Esq. of this place, has been summoned as a juror in the district court of the U. States for Eastern District of this state, for term beginning Aug. 18.

Whilst in Gettysburg attending the races D. B. Union, of Sunbury, had his horse stolen from the stable of the Washington Hotel.

SELF-PITY

Be sorry for your neighbor if in bed he has to stay,

Be sorry for the stranger who goes limping on his way,

Be sorry for the beggar asking you to share your pelf,

But never waste a minute being sorry for yourself.

Be sorry for the hungry and the lonely and the cold,

Be sorry for the troubled when his tale of woe is told,

Be sorry for the failure still upon life's lowest shelf,

But don't ever waste a minute being sorry for yourself.

Oh, your burden may be heavy and your spirit sinking low,

But don't ever get to thinking that the worst of life you know.

Keep your pity all for others as you go along your way,

But yourself don't ever pity—you are better off than they.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

EMERGENCY — HELP!

Few of us ever realize how dependent we are upon others. In an emergency our first thought is to call on someone else for help. It may be a friend, neighbor, police, or an unknown, such as when an accident occurs on the road with our car. When there is trouble or a dire emergency people are as one.

Last year in Chicago alone there were 536,000 emergency calls received by telephone operators. These calls, curiously, were a most varied sort. They were for doctors, police, firemen, information on a disappeared person, what to do for some immediate illness, calls from baby sisters, alarmed at strange noises or possible threats, sudden heart attacks, and an endless number of other calls for help.

We live in a world of fears. We never know when an emergency and a call for help may come our way. Many a life could have been saved from drowning if fear hadn't taken command. Emergencies call for courage, level heads, and resourceful minds.

As well as we are able we should train ourselves, and will ourselves, to expect emergencies, and, before calling for outside help, master the emergency ourselves. It is well, however, that there are agencies and organizations that are always ready to serve those who call upon them. Our neighbors, friends, policemen, firemen, and telephone operators are at their posts. They are for us—let us never forget to be for them!

That good Samaritan who helped that unfortunate by the roadside to his own beast, and offered and gave help, didn't do so because he had to but because he wanted to. That is the spirit in which we should always be glad to render service.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Love That Job." Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

Secretary Of State Dulles Enroute To Seoul For Talks With Rhee On Security Pact

MOCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Washn. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today winged across the Pacific toward Seoul and talks with Korean President Syngman Rhee on the wording of a Korean-American security pact.

Dulles, who was the object of an angry blast by Red China's Peiping radio yesterday, left this sprawling base south of Tacoma last night after a flight from Washington.

The treaty Dulles is to discuss with the aging Korean leader is designed to strengthen the war-torn country against the possibility of a future Communist attack.

Also slated for discussion was a rehabilitation plan revealed Saturday in which Dulles and President Eisenhower said American troops would be used to repair war damage in South Korea.

Before leaving Washington yesterday, Dulles told newsmen the United States intends to consult fully with other U. N. members on the future of Korea.

As to his talks with Rhee, Dulles said in a statement: "It is clearly appropriate that there should be a preliminary exchange of views with the government of the Republic of Korea, which was the victim of the Communist aggression and which contributed mightily to stopping that aggression."

"But the United States will not finally determine its position in relation to the (forthcoming) political conference (on the future of Korea) and its procedure until we have had the benefit of wider consultation."

Exploratory Talks

Dulles said his talks with Rhee were to be purely exploratory and would not be binding on the United States.

He said he intends to seek maximum coordination between South Korea and U. S. policies before the political conference.

Rhee's defiant stand for the ultimate unification of Korea may prove the stumbling block to the conference. The Korean leader has stated that South Korea will walk out of the conference and resume the war if within 90 days the conference has not produced tangible results on Korean unity.

As Dulles flew across the United States, Peiping radio said in a broadcast monitored by The Associated Press at San Francisco that the "series of absurd statements issued by Dulles undoubtedly cast a shadow on the future of peace in Korea."

Old Red Attack

"The world is closely watching" the Dulles trip, Peiping radio commented. "People must give serious attention to the actions of the same adventurist who was in South Korea and instigated the war three years ago."

(This was an apparent reference to a trip Dulles made to South Korea as the special representative of former President Truman shortly before the North Korean Army smashed across the 38th Parallel on June 25, 1950.)

Dulles' talks with Rhee were scheduled to start in Seoul tomorrow. The secretary of state said they were to last four or five days.

WIFE'S ILLNESS ENDS COACHING DAYS FOR STAGG

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, football's grand old man, says his 63-year coaching career appears ended because of the illness of his wife Stella—"the best assistant a coach ever had."

The venerable 91-year-old mentor said today he would not return to his advisory post at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa., due to Mrs. Stagg's health.

"My buddy, the mainstay and center of my life for 59 years, needs me," said Stagg. "I will stay by her in every way."

Mrs. Stagg is 75.

Mrs. Stagg, who will be 78 Friday, suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago. Her heart is also in a weakened condition. Stagg had assisted his son, Amos Alonzo Jr., at Susquehanna since 1947, including an unbeaten 1951 season.

"I've had 63 years of coaching. If I can't have another," he explained, "it is all right. If it is God's will, so be it. I won't be faithless to my buddy. It would be nice to continue coaching, but it seems unlikely."

"Retired" At 70

Mrs. Stagg made an intensive study of the game her husband helped to develop. She established a reputation as a competent scout while Stagg coached at College of the Pacific in Stockton and was known to diagram plays for him.

An All-America end at Yale, Stagg went to the University of Chicago as head of the department of athletics in 1892. He established football there and from then on, he and Pop Warner virtually invented everything from the wing-back to the man-in-motion, from the tackling dummy to the spiral pass.

Chicago retired him in 1933 when he turned 70 and Stagg moved on to College of Pacific, remaining there through 1946.

Success car

of the season!

Topping a traditional Ford trend, the 1953 Ford today leads all other cars in bringing you the kind of car you've always wanted for the kind of money you can afford to pay. It's America's "Worth More" car... worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it.

NEVER BEFORE has a car enjoyed such wide acclaim as Ford during the past few years. And this year, with a hull-tight Crestmark Body that's the style-setter, a new ride that's unbelievably smooth, a choice of high compression V-8 and Six that's the envy of its field and a total of 41 "Worth More" features, the 1953 Ford steps even further out front to become the New Standard of the American Road. Ford keeps its value better than any other car, too. A check of used car dealers and owners will prove it. So join the swing to Ford. Take a Test Drive today.

Firemen's Carnival Opens This Evening At Littlestown

The Alpha Fire Company carnival will open this evening on the playground. The carnival will continue all week and there will be rides, concessions, refreshments, entertainment, games, etc.

The special entertainment scheduled for tonight will be Bunny and the Sunset Valley Rangers of Hanover. On Tuesday evening Earl Philips and the Buckboard Ramblers, Hanover, will provide entertainment.

The Rev. Dr. H. D. Helm, head of the department of religious education at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, was the guest minister at St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning. He will also be in charge of the service next Sunday, during the absence of the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns.

The Fellowship and Attendance Committee consisting of Clarence R. Reck, chairman, Lloyd L. Staveland, Charles E. Rabenstein, Charles E. Ritter, Richard A. Little and Arthur E. Blair will be in charge of the program at the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club on Tuesday evening, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel.

Plan S. S. Picnic
The annual Sunday School picnic of the Centenary Methodist Church will be held on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Furlow, near town. Lunch will be provided by the committee. There will be swimming and games for the children. Those desiring transportation should meet at the church by 1:45 p.m. on Saturday.

At the Sunday morning worship service in the Centenary Church, the pastor, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, made the following announcements: Monday, August 10, 7 p.m., the meeting of the Junior Fellowship will be resumed at the church. Mrs. Robert Crist and Mrs. Albert H. Miller Jr. will be in charge of the meetings. All children and youth of the church are invited to attend; Wednesday, August 12, 7:30 p.m., the first quarterly conference will be held at the church, with Dr. F. LaMont Henninger, district superintendent, Harrisburg, presiding. Sunday, August 30, will be vacation Sunday at the Methodist Church.

The Rev. John W. Kammerer, pastor of the Lutheran Church in Carlisle, was the guest minister at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning. The Rev. Leon J. Haines, Baltimore, will be the guest preacher next Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Arthur E. Blair taught the lesson in the entire adult department of the Sunday School yesterday.

Invitation To Delone
The Rev. Fr. William Lyons, principal of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, has invited the men of St. Aloysius Parish who have a few free hours of daytime or in the evening to visit the school and assist with the painting and redecorating of several classrooms. The announcement was made by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan at the Sunday morning masses. Father Shanahan also announced that a large amount of building is being done in the Harrisburg Diocese and anyone in the parish desiring to lend money to the Mission Board at a two and a half per cent interest is invited to do so. The minimum investment that will be accepted is a hundred dollars, and the investments will be used to carry on the building enterprise.

Daily mass in St. Aloysius Church this week will begin at 7:30 a.m. Confessions on Thursday will be heard from 4 to 4:30 and 7 to 7:30 p.m. Holy communion will be distributed outside of mass on Friday at 5:45 and 7:05 a.m., and mass will begin at 7:30 a.m.

Announce Guest Preacher
"The Prodigal Son" was the subject of the sermon presented by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds at the Sunday morning worship service in Redeemer's Reformed Church. The gospel lesson was taken from Luke 15:11-24 and the epistle lesson from I Corinthians 10:6-13. A vocal solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," Liddle, was sung by Stewart N. Long, accompanied by Ferree LeFevre, church organist. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Dr. Arthur C. Richards, who lost his life in Korea and was buried in the National Cemetery, Gettysburg, on Friday.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds announced that the Rev. J. Alfred Fryer, pastor of Memorial Reformed Church, York, will be the guest minister on Sunday, August 9. The Rev. Theodore Woodrow Boltz, pastor of the Livingston Avenue Reformed Church, New Brunswick, N. J., and pastor of Redeemer's Church from 1942-1946, will be the guest minister on August 16.

Next Thursday evening at 7

caused about $25 damage. No one was injured.

State Police said a charge will be filed against James E. Day, 41, York R. D., driver of a car which ran off the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg Rd., a mile north of the Maryland line about 11 o'clock Saturday evening and struck a boulder.

Day, his wife and another occupant of the car escaped injury but damage to the car was estimated at about $100. Day was driving north when the crash occurred. His car ran off the east side of the highway.

Child Dozes And Car Upsets

When a 69-year-old driver tried to place his dozing two-year-old grandson in a more comfortable position as they drove along the Lincoln Highway Sunday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, his car ran off the highway, struck a pole and turned, over, state police reported.

The driver was Amos Rohrbaugh,

29 W. Hanover St., Hanover, and the child was J. Allen Reed, Gettysburg R. 2. The police said Rohrbaugh told them he reached over to lay the child on the seat after he had fallen asleep. The car went out of control and off the south side of the highway. Rohrbaugh was headed east on the old section of Route 30 about 300 feet west of its intersection with the new road near McKnightstown.

The boy was treated for a scalp laceration at the Warner Hospital but Mr. Rohrbaugh and another grandson, Jack Reed, aged five, were unhurt although the car was practically demolished. Damage was placed at about $150.

Boy Hit At Park

Ronald DeGroff, aged four, Littlestown R. 1, was taken to the Warner Hospital where he was admitted and held for observation after the child ran in front of a car operated by James A. Groff, 20, McSherrystown, at Marsh Creek Park along the Emmitsburg Rd.

The accident occurred about 12:50 p.m. Sunday and was investigated by state police. The boy's injuries may not be more serious than bruise burns of the right leg.

Something "Popped"

Another accident on Route 15 occurred about 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning about four miles north of York Springs.

Annie C. Crocker, 37, Anderson, S. C., told state police "something seemed to pop" in the front part of her pickup truck and it went out of control and ran off the highway. She and her son escaped injury but damage to the truck was placed at about $100.

A $375 accident occurred on the Emmitsburg Rd. at 7 o'clock on Sunday morning, four miles south of here when a truck operated by Helen Dersham, 44, Duncannon, Pa., struck the rear of a car operated by Carrie B. Fische, 39, Gettysburg R. 2. The Fische car was slowing for a turn off the highway when the Duncannon truck came up back of it and struck it in the rear when the operator was unable to stop on the road made slippery by a light drizzle that was falling at the time. Damage to the truck was placed at $300 and to the Fische car, $75. No one was hurt in the crash.

PUSH SEARCH FOR KILLER OF TRUCK DRIVERS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania and Ohio police pushed a relentless search today for the maniac who killed two truck drivers and wounded another as they slept in the cabs of their vehicles.

During the weekend, Ohio authorities said ballistics examinations showed that John K. Shepherd, 34, of West Alexander, Pa., apparently was shot with the same .32 caliber pistol used in the two turnpike slayings.

Shepherd, wounded last Friday near Lisbon, O., a few miles from the Irwin entrance to the super toll highway, is recovering but still unable to give a coherent account of just what happened.

Three days before Shepherd was shot, Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., was killed as he slept in his truck on the turnpike.

Offer $11,000 Reward

The outbreak of shootings began July 26. Lester B. Woodward, 30, of near Harrisburg, was slain. His body was found about 30 miles from the scene of the Pitts slaying.

Truck associations and unions have offered rewards totalling $11,000 for the turnpike slayer.

Latest pike incident reported to police involved a trucker who said he was shadowed for 17 miles yesterday by the driver of a "yellow or tan" Chevrolet station wagon.

Charles E. Watts of Lawrenceburg, Ind., told state police the station wagon began following him at 1:30 a. m. yesterday on Route 122-422 several miles west of Reading.

Kept Following Truck

The truck moved slowly when the light changed, but the station wagon would not pass. Watts stopped twice at diners for coffee, and each time the station wagon did too, parking at the far end of the diner lots.

Watts said the driver was 35 to

Work Resumed At New Steel Plant

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The furnaces at U. S. Steel's new Fairless works near here are back in operation today after a brief strike of some 3,000 production and maintenance workers was called off.

The workers began returning to their jobs late Saturday night after a two-day walkout. Company officials said normal operations would be resumed on a schedule "consistent with orderly and safe procedure."

The workers are members of the CIO United Steelworkers of America. A union spokesman termed the strike unauthorized. Dissatisfaction over the progress of contract negotiations was blamed for the strike.

Each one of the peaks surrounding Maligne Lake, now named the "Queen Elizabeth Ranges," is more than 10,000 feet high, and the entire area in Alberta is regarded as one of Canada's top scenic attractions.

38, about 5-feet-10, 185 pounds, with light brown or near-blond hair. Very clean, he wore brown trousers and a spot shirt.

The trucker said he lost the station wagon in Pottstown. He did not get the license number.

Learning about the turnpike murder when he reached Philadelphia, Watts then told police his story, and descriptions of the station wagon and its driver were put on the police teletype.

Meanwhile, truckers were working "the buddy system" to the hilt for fear the midnight murderer of the turnpike might strike again.

Urged by police and trucking associations, the drivers were not parking alone along lonely stretches of the toll road. And truckers seeing another truck halted for mechanical trouble were stopping and remaining with the driver until he could continue.

Another Weekend Stumble For Chisox; Brooklyn Slips; Milwaukee And Phils Divide

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Once again the Chicago White Sox are missing a chance to take full advantage of another weekend stumble by the New York Yankees.

Sundays are rough days for Paul Richards' go-go boys. Two weeks ago they blew a double-header to the Yankees at Comiskey Park. Last week they tossed away another chance by splitting a double-header with Philadelphia while the Yankees broke even with Detroit.

Wall Masterson was the stumbling block yesterday, shunning out the White Sox with six hits for a 1-0 Washington victory while the Yanks watched the rain wash out their double with the St. Louis Browns. So the White Sox lost half of the game they picked up Saturday and still trail New York by five full games.

The American League race is building up to a big showdown series at Yankee Stadium Friday, Saturday and Sunday when Chicago comes in for four big games.

Cleveland closed within seven games of the Yanks by grabbing a pair from Philadelphia 10-1 and 7-1 on the pitching of Bob Lemon and Early Wynn. Lemon now has won 15 games. Detroit continued its late surge by knocking off Boston twice 2-1 and 9-6, extending the Red Sox losing streak to eight games.

Brooklyn's lead in the National was cut half a game to 7½ when the Dodgers were beaten by St. Louis 10-1 while second-place Milwaukee broke even with Philadelphia. Curt Simmons, treated roughly in his last three starts, held Milwaukee to five hits to win the first 4-1 but the Braves came right back to take the second 6-1 behind Bob Buhl.

Cincinnati swept a pair from the New York Giants 5-0 and 3-1 behind Harry Perkowsky and Fred Baczewski. The first game shunout was the fourth for the Giants in seven games. Chicago 6 finally downed Pittsburgh 7-6 in 11 innings on Ransom Jackson's home run. After the long rain-interrupted game, the second half of the double was called off on account of darkness.

The Washington-Chicago game was a tight battle between Masterson and Harry Dorch all the way. Jim Busby drove in the only run in the fourth inning with a single scoring Jackie Jensen, who doubled and took third on an infield out. Jensen pulled Masterson out of trouble in the eighth with a fine peg that cut down Tom Wright, attempting to go from first to third on Ferris Fain's single.

First 15-game Winner
Lemon breezed home against the A's with a six-hitter, losing his shutout on Gus Zernial's 25th home run in the eighth. He became the first 15-game winner in the American League. Bobby Shantz, his rival, had to leave the contest after four innings with a stiff left arm. Al Smith's second homer of the season topped a four-run spurt that rallied down the second game for Wynn, who matched Lemon's six-hitter. Lemon stopped Dave Philley's 19-game hitting streak.

The Tigers swept the entire series from the Red Sox with Ned Garver and Dick Marlowe getting the credit. Garver went all the way with a six-hitter but Marlowe needed relief help from Ray Herbert and a homer by Ray Boone during a five-run rally in the eighth to win over Frank Sullivan, a 6-foot-7½ rookie from Albany, N. Y.

Harvey Haddix threw a sharp six-hitter at Brooklyn. Ray Jablonski, Red Schoendienst and Steve Bilko ripped into the parade of Dodger pitchers for home runs. Bilko's coming off Jim Hughes with the bases loaded in the seventh.

Win Streak Ends
Johnny Podres' seven-game winning streak was broken when he was knocked out in the fifth. Erv Palica, just back from the Army, finished the game.

Joe Adcock's three-run homer on a 3-2 pitch by reliever Karl Drews helped Buhl win the second game at Milwaukee, after Del Ems hit his 24th with two on to give Simmons his ninth victory. The only run off Simmons came on successive doubles by Adcock and Del Crandall.

The Giant hitters continued to play dead while Perkowsky and Baczewski, Cincinnati's most effective pitchers, did their stuff. Perkowsky's four-hit shutout was his 10th victory of the year and ninth in his last 10 decisions. Wilard Marshall's homer with two on eased the left-hander's way. Baczewski didn't allow a hit until the

TAM O'SHANTER GOLF TOURNEY IS WASHED OUT

CHICAGO 2P—The All-American Golf Tourney, rained out of its scheduled finish yesterday, had a sidestep touch to its delayed wind-up today.

An array of 40 pros among the 150 men and women who must tackle Tam O'Shanter course for a fifth day competed in a $25,000 hole-in-one television show.

This all was incidental to the retarded closing round of the All-American Three-Ply Tourney. Eighty players had finished the concluding round yesterday before Harvey Raynor, PGA tourney supervisor, ruled the course was too water-logged for play. All scores were cancelled.

The postponement saddened the 34-hole leader, Peter Cooper, the Floridian who works as a club pro in White Plains, N. Y.

Three In Lead

When the rains came, Cooper, Jackie Burke and Dave Douglas were matched for the lead through the first eight holes of the final round, eight under par. Bo Winger, Oklahoma City pro, who had a 210 score for 34 holes, also was eight under after an opening 34.

In the concurrent All-American Women's Open, leader Betty Hicks of Culver City, Calif., nursed her two-stroke 54-hole lead 229 to 231 against the year's leading money-winner, Louise Suggs. Babe Zaharias, who had completed her fourth round with a respectable 80 for a 325 total, 21 over par, said she was ready for the extra round. The Babe, making her first tourney start since an April cancer operation, said her game was returning.

In the men's amateur division, the light still was between Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., and John Levinson, Chicago lawyer, 218 to 220.

The cellar-dwelling Tigers knocked the Giants out of the Little League championship race Saturday afternoon and assured the Yankees of the first season Little League title when the Tigers defeated the Giants 12 to 2.

The Yankees were handed the league championship in spite of their defeat at the hands of the Cubs in the second game.

The Tigers won their important tilt with the no-hu pitching of James Townsend. He had six strikeouts. The Giants pushed two runs across in the first inning but the Tigers came back with three, added six more in the fourth. Dreas had a homerun and a three-bagger for the victors.

In the Yankee game, the league champs took a six-run lead in the second inning but the Cubs scored in their half of the second, tied it up with five runs in the third and added three more in the fourth and again in the fifth inning to stand off a Yankee rally that brought in three runs in the sixth.

Out Of The Past
From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
Church Dedication: The new Roman Catholic Church in this place (St. Francis Xavier's) was on Sunday dedicated to the service of God by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Neumann, Bishop of Philadelphia. The assemblage of strangers on the occasion was very large.

Married: On the 2d inst., by the Rev. Jacob Ziegler, Mr. Jacob Munn-dorf to Miss Margaret Biessecker, both of Franklintown township.

We are pleased to learn that the disease which had broken out at Philadelphia, communicated by a vessel which had arrived there from New Orleans, has somewhat abated, and the panic subsided in some degree.

Health of Emmitsburg: We learn that there have been several deaths in that village during the past week—amongst them Dr. Augustine Taney, a gentleman of high reputation as a man and as a physician; and Mrs. Agnew, long and favorably known as the proprietress of the hotel there. The latter was ill but a few hours. There would appear, therefore, to be some disease, of more than ordinary malignity prevailing there.

Died: In Leesburg, Va., on Monday evening, after a very short illness, George M. Griest, son of Cyrus Griest, of this county. He had left his father's house a few days previously for Virginia, and on the way suffered several days with diarrhea of a malignant type. On Sunday he walked ten miles through the excessive heat of the sun, and immediately on his arrival at Leesburg, he was violently attacked, and though the best medical attention was secured, he died on the following evening at 6 o'clock. Every attention was paid him by those around him. . . . His body was sent to his friends, accompanied by some citizens.

Children's Shoes, the best assortment in town, at K. Kurtz's

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Scholarship: The Gettysburg School Board, at their meeting on Thursday evening, awarded the Thompsonian scholarship in Pennsylvania College to S. Anderson Wolf, son of Mr. J. Geo. Wolf, of this place.

Sales: The farm of George Hollebaugh, deceased, in Butler township, was sold on Saturday to Franklin C. Rice—120 acres for $3,192.75.

Levi H. Stallsmith has purchased a lot of ground on York street from Mr. Henry Culp, of P., at $300 and will erect a house on it shortly.

E. M. Ziegler has purchased a house on York street from the First National Bank at $1,200.

This is the season of the year when the average shopkeeper takes no interest in business and takes very little money over his counter. He doesn't want to be bothered with business, and wisely refrains from advertising his wares.

Married: Miller—Beamer, Aug. 1, by Rev. Dr. Steck, A. J. Miller, of Reading township, to Miss Alice Beamer, of Arendtsville.

Myers—Mehring, Aug. 1st, by Rev. E. D. Weigle, Henry W. Myers to Miss Alverta M. Mehling, both of Littlestown.

Roth—Plank, Aug. 1st, by Rev. Jacob Sechler, Dr. Leander A. Roth, of Spring Grove, York county, to Miss Sallie Rosema Plank, of Adams county.

The corner-stone of the new Lutheran Church (St. Matthew's) at Hanover was laid on Saturday afternoon with interesting services. Rev. Drs. May and Valentine, of this place, delivered discourses, the former in German, the latter in English.

Hart Gilbert, Esq., of this place, has been summoned as a juror in the district court of the U. States for Eastern District of this state, for term beginning Aug. 19.

Whist in Gettysburg attending the races, D. B. Unrich, of Ship-pensburg, had his horse stolen from the stable of the Washington House.

SELF-PITY
Be sorry for your neighbor if in bed he has to stay,
Be sorry for the stranger who goes limping on his way,
Be sorry for the beggar asking you to share your pie,
But never waste a minute being sorry for yourself.

Be sorry for the hungry and the lonely and the cold,
Be sorry for the troubled when his tale of woe is told,
Be sorry for the failure still upon life's lowest shelf,
But don't ever waste a minute being sorry for yourself.

Oh, your burden may be heavy and your spirit sinking low,
But don't ever get to thinking that the worst of life you know.
Keep your pity all for others as you go along your way,
But yourself don't ever pity—you are better off than they.

EMERGENCY — HELP!
Few of us ever realize how dependent we are upon others. In an emergency our first thought is to call on someone else for help. It may be a friend, neighbor, police, or an unknown, such as when an accident occurs on the road with our car. When there is trouble or a dire emergency people are as one.

Last year in Chicago alone there were 536,000 emergency calls received by telephone operators. These calls, curiously, were a most varied sort. They were for doctors, police, firemen, information on a disappeared person, what to do for some immediate illness, calls from baby sitters, alarmed at strange noises or possible threats, sudden heart attacks, and an endless number of other calls for help.

We live in a world of fears. We never know when an emergency and a call for help may come our way. Many a life could have been saved from drowning if fear hadn't taken command. Emergencies call for courage, level heads, and resourceful minds.

As well as we are able we should train ourselves, and will ourselves, to expect emergencies, and, before calling for outside help, master the emergency ourselves. It is well however, that there are agencies and organizations that are always ready to serve those who call upon them. Our neighbors, friends, policemen, firemen, and telephone operators are at their posts. They are for us—let us never forget to be for them!

That good Samaritan who helped that unfortunate by the roadside to his own beast, and offered and gave help, didn't do so because he had to but because he wanted to. That is the spirit in which we should always be glad to render service.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Love That Job." Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

Secretary Of State Dulles
Enroute To Seoul For Talks
With Rhee On Security Pact

MCCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Washn. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today winged across the Pacific toward Seoul and talks with Korean President Syngman Rhee on the wording of a Korean-American security pact.

Dulles, who was the object of an angry blast by Red China's Peiping radio yesterday, left this sprawling base south of Tacoma last night after a flight from Washington.

The treaty Dulles is to discuss with the aging Korean leader is designed to strengthen the war-torn country against the possibility of a future Communist attack.

Also slated for discussion was a rehabilitation plan revealed Saturday in which Dulles and President Eisenhower said American troops would be used to repair war damage in South Korea.

Before leaving Washington yesterday, Dulles told newsmen the United States intends to consult fully with other U. N. members on the future of Korea.

As to his talks with Rhee, Dulles said in a statement:

"It is clearly appropriate that there should be a preliminary exchange of views with the government of the Republic of Korea, which was the victim of the Communist aggression and which contributed mightily to stopping that aggression."

"But the United States will not finally determine its position in relation to the (forthcoming) political conference (on the future of Korea) and its procedure until we have had the benefit of wider consultation."

Exploratory Talks
Dulles said his talks with Rhee were to be purely exploratory and would not be binding on the United States.

He said he intends to seek maximum coordination between South Korea and U. S. policies before the political conference.

Rhee's defiant stand for the ultimate unification of Korea may prove the stumbling block to the conference. The Korean leader has stated that South Korea will walk out of the conference and resume the war if within 90 days the conference has not produced tangible results on Korean unity.

As Dulles flew across the United States, Peiping radio said in a broadcast monitored by The Associated Press at San Francisco that the "series of absurd statements issued by Dulles undoubtedly cast a shadow on the future of peace in Korea."

"The world is closely watching" the Dulles trip, Peiping radio commented. "People must give serious attention to the actions of the same adventurer who was in South Korea and instigated the war three years ago."

(This was an apparent reference to a trip Dulles made to South Korea as the special representative of former President Truman shortly before the North Korean Army smashed across the 38th

WIFE'S ILLNESS
ENDS COACHING
DAYS FOR STAGG

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, football's grand old man, says his 63-year coaching career appears ended because of the illness of his wife Stella—"the best assistant a coach ever had."

The venerable 91-year-old mentor said today he would not return to his advisory post at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa., due to Mrs. Stagg's health.

"My buddy, the mainstay and center of my life for 59 years, needs me," said Stagg. "I will stay by her in every way."

Mrs. Stagg is 78. Mrs. Stagg, who will be 78 Friday, suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago. Her heart is also in a weakened condition.

Stagg had assisted his son, Amos Alonzo Jr., at Susquehanna since 1947, including an unbeaten 1951 season.

"I've had 63 years of coaching. If I can't have another," he explained, "it is all right. If it is Parallel on June 25, 1950.) Dulles' talks with Rhee were scheduled to start in Seoul tomorrow. The secretary of state said they were to last four or five days.

God's will, so be it. I won't be faithless to my buddy. It would be nice to continue coaching, but it seems unlikely."

"Retired" At 70

Mrs. Stagg made an intensive study of the game her husband helped to develop. She established a reputation as a competent scout while Stagg coached at College of the Pacific in Stockton and was known to diagram plays for him.

An All-America end at Yale, Stagg went to the University of Chicago as head of the department of athletics in 1892. He established football there and from then on, he and Pop Warner virtually invented everything from the wing-back to the man-in-motion, from the tackling dummy to the spiral pass.

Chicago retired him in 1933 when he turned 70 and Stagg moved on to College of Pacific, remaining there through 1946.

Success car

of the season!

Topping a traditional Ford trend, the 1953 Ford today leads all other cars in bringing you the kind of car you've always wanted for the kind of money you can afford to pay. It's America's "Worth More" car . . . worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it.

NEVER BEFORE has a car enjoyed such wide acclaim as Ford during the past few years. And this year, with a hull-tight Crestmark Body that's the style-setter, a new ride that's unbelievably smooth, a choice of high compression V-8 and Six that's the envy of its field and a total of 41 "Worth More" features, the 1953 Ford steps even further out front to become the New Standard of the American Road. Ford keeps its value better than any other car, too. A check of used car dealers and owners will prove it. So join the swing to Ford. Take a Test Drive today.

The Crowley — Ideal For A Young And Growing Family

Rooms — Eight
Bedrooms — Five
Bathrooms — Three
Closets — Nine
Cubage: House — 21,500 ft.
Garage — 7,770 ft.
Dimensions — 33' x 26'

Wide clapboards and stones combine to make a distinctive exterior finish completely in harmony with the architecture of "The Crowley." Either a plain wood or masonry finish could be used with attractive results if you do not care for a combination exterior. Bands, the round window in the bathroom, the three windowed bay in the living room and the wide additional decorative appeal for the house exterior.

scaping. Cubage of the main house is 21,500 feet. Overall dimensions are 33' x 26'. The garage wing has a cubage of 7,770 feet.

The front door opens on a small hall that contains a coat closet, in which to hang guests' wraps and a regular closet in which you can store your family's rain gear, or any other items which could most conveniently be kept in this section of your home.

You'll find the lavatory, placed to the right of the hallway, most convenient both for your guests and for your family. If you do not want to finish the second floor until some future date when you have need of the extra room, the lavatory can be double as a bathroom.

Handsome Living Room.

To the right, also opening off the entry hall, is the spacious and handsome living room. The three windowed bay in the front wall and the large fireplace in the right wall are the decorative highspots of the room. Both features also have practical values for the room: the fireplace will prove well worth the space it occupies on many a chilly day or evening.

Bookshelves, built-in at either side of the fireplace, further enhance the decorative charms of this section of the room. They'll also help you to keep the room uncluttered by providing a regular, and convenient storage spot for your books.

Against the unbroken section of back wall would make an excellent location for your television set.

The den or guest bedroom is located to the left of the living room. Measuring 13' by 11'6", the room is assured of good light and cross ventilation through the three windows in the back wall. You can and conveniently use this as a regular bedroom if you do not want to finish the second floor at the time the house is built.

China Closets

Opening off the living room, the dining room is a pleasant well-lighted room with ample space for attractive arrangement of your dining room furniture. The built-in china closet in the left back corner of the room is an ideal storage and display spot for your fine china and glassware. Build in drawers at the bottom of the cabinet as a storage spot for your table linen. And be sure to take advantage of the light and view provided by the three windows in the right wall when arranging your dining table and chairs.

Conveniently near to the dining room, the kitchen is planned as a work center, yet contains enough room for a comfortable breakfast nook in the back right corner of the room. In dimensions, the kitchen is 12'6" x 13'6". Working counters, sinks and refrigerator line the left wall of the room. The sink is placed in the center of the array, under the large window out on the back yard.

Concealed in the back wall of the living room is the doorway that closes off the stairs to the second floor, which contains four bedrooms plus a bathroom.

Each of the bedrooms has cross ventilation and plenty of precious closet space. The "el" front bedroom is 15' x 12'6" and is designed to serve as the master bedroom. The right front bedroom measures 12'6" x 11'.

Things Of The Soil

TURNING WEEDS TO PROFIT

Numerous weeds, perennial as well as annual, will begin to ripen their seeds within the next two or three weeks. This means that the farm, garden, and lawn tasks for next year and even for several years beyond will be multiplied many times over unless these 1953 weeds are cut before the seed matures. When so great an advantage can be coupled with a profitable increase in soil fertility and moisture-holding powers, surely the war on weeds should be intelligently intensified during the next ten days to three or four weeks.

Weeds may be utilized as profitably on the compost heap or for immediate turning under to deepen and lighten shallow and hard soils as any other form a green manure. Of course, if they are cut or turned under when they are soft and green, that is, before they ripen their seed crop, they will decay sooner and improve the soil more.

Many farmers mow wheat and other early grain fields at this time of the year to destroy ragweeds. Allowing these cut weeds to remain where they fall, to dry and almost to disappear, results in the loss of considerable of their organic matter value. In many cases a liberal compost heap could be started by raking these and wetting them down along with some rich soil, a few handfuls of lime, and any other waste vegetation at hand.

In regions where drought is taking a heavy toll and roughage is likely to be scarce for winter, green weeds often make excellent silage. In fact it is probable that farmers are annually losing profitable supplies of better-than-average silage by neglecting to utilize weeds.

Many home vegetable gardeners complain that they cannot find sufficient vegetation to maintain compost heaps. Vacant lots in urban communities, fence rows, rural cemeteries, school property, and scores of other sources of weeds and grass offer almost unlimited stores. And in many instances the cutting will render a useful and

A large linen closet is conveniently placed between the two back bedrooms and opens on the connecting hallway.

Pansies And Violas Grow Well From Seed Sown Now

For shady places in the garden, where the soil is porous and well drained, there is no flower more rewarding in garden color and cut blooms than the pansy. Beginners, who want experience in growing biennial flowers should start with the pansy, which is treated as a biennial and usually sown in late summer.

Fill a "flat" with a mixture of sharp sand and your best top soil, sifted. Scatter a packet of seed evenly over the surface, and cover it lightly with sifted soil. Keep moist and in the shade until the seed sprout, then place in a protected location where the plants will have a few hours of sunshine daily, and be watered as you do other plants.

When the seedlings are large enough to handle, they can be transplanted to other flats spaced two inches apart each way; but they do not insist upon this. Let them alone if you wish, and when freeing weather comes the flat will be crowded with vigorous plants. Place in a cold frame, or in a protected corner near the house foundation, where there is enough sun to keep down mildew, and cover the flat with dry leaves. Inspect it occasionally to be sure it is not too dry, but let the snow cover it without worrying.

In the spring your pansy plants should look much as they did in the fall with dark green leaves unfaded beneath the blanket of leaves. In a cold frame they can be flowered by top time, but a longer garden display will be obtained if the plants are kept in the open, and transplanted to the chosen place as soon as the soil is workable.

In well drained soil with only a few hours sun pansies will bloom all summer. The more blossoms you cut for indoor use, the more the plants will bear. If in midsummer the flowers become fewer, cut back the top growth severely and a new crop will follow.

Violas are treated just like the pansies, the difference between them being chiefly a matter of size, and color markings. Violas have the tufted growth of violets, and no color blotches, or "faced."

When violas are given a protective mulch they will often live for several years, but the best practice is to start a flat of new seedlings every summer. It is remarkable how little time it takes, and how undemanding are the pansy and viola plants.

In selecting strains for the garden, many named varieties of both pansies and violas are available, as well as mixtures which provide all colors in the remarkable range which these flowers possess. Beds of a single color are beautiful, but most amateurs will find a mixture of colors most interesting.

Another Weekend Stumble For Chisox; Brooklyn Slips; Milwaukee And Phils Divide

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Once again the Chicago White Sox are moaning the "Monday Blues" after missing a chance to take full advantage of another weekend stumble by the New York Yankees.

Sundays are rough days for Paul Richards's go-go boys. Two weeks ago they blew a double-header to the Yankees at Comiskey Park. Last week they tossed away another chance by splitting a double-header with Philadelphia while the Yankees broke even with Detroit.

Walt Masterson was the stumbling block yesterday, shutting out the White Sox with six hits for a 1-0 Washington victory while the Yankees watched the rain wash out their double with the St. Louis Browns. So the White Sox lost half of the game they picked up Saturday and still trail New York by five full games.

The American League race is building up to a big showdown series at Yankee Stadium Friday, Saturday and Sunday when Chicago comes in for four big games.

Cleveland closed within seven games of the Yanks by grabbing a pair from Philadelphia 10-1 and 7-1 on the pitching of Bob Lemon and Early Wynn. Lemon now has won 15 games. Detroit continued its late surge by knocking off Boston twice 2-1 and 9-6, extending the Red Sox losing streak to eight games.

Brooklyn's lead in the National was cut half a game to 7½ when the Dodgers were beaten by St. Louis 10-1 while second-place Milwaukee broke even with Philadelphia. Curt Simmons, treated roughly in his last three starts, held Milwaukee to five hits to win the first 4-1 but the Braves came right back to take the second 6-1 behind Bob Buhl.

Cincinnati swept a pair from the New York Giants 5-0 and 3-1 behind Harry Perkowski and Fred Baczewski. The first game shutout was the fourth for the Giants in seven games. Chicago finally downed Pittsburgh 7-6 in 11 innings on Ransom Jackson's home run. After the long rain-interrupted game, the second half of the double was called off on account of darkness.

The Washington-Chicago game was a tight battle between Masterson and Harry Dorish all the way. Jim Busby drove in the only run in the fourth inning with a single scoring Jackie Jensen, who doubled and took third on an infield out. Jensen pulled Masterson out of trouble in the eighth with a fine peg that cut down Tom Wright, attempting to go from first to third on Ferris Fain's single.

First 15-game Winner
Lemon breezed home against the A's with a six-hitter, losing his shutout on Gus Zernial's 25th home run in the eighth. He became the first 15-game winner in the American League. Bobby Shantz, his rival, had to leave the contest after four innings with a stiff left arm. Al Smith's second homer of the season topped a four-run spurt that nailed down the second game for Wynn, who matched Lemon's six-hitter. Lemon stopped Dave Philley's 10-game hitting streak.

The Tigers swept the entire series from the Red Sox with Ned Garver and Dick Marlowe getting the credit. Garver went all the way with a six-hitter but Marlowe needed relief help from Ray Herbert and a homer by Ray Boone during a five-run rally in the eighth to win over Frank Sullivan, a 6-foot-7½ rookie from Albany, N. Y.

Harvey Haddix threw a sharp six-hitter at Brooklyn. Ray Jablonski, Red Schoendienst and Steve Bilko ripped into the parade of Dodger pitchers for home runs, Bilko's coming off Jim Hughes with the bases loaded in the seventh.

Win Streak Ends
Johnny Podres' seven-game winning streak was broken when he was knocked out in the fifth. Erv Palica, just back from the Army, finished the game.

Joe Adcock's three-run homer on a 3-2 pitch by reliever Karl Drews helped Buhl win the second game at Milwaukee, after Del Ennis hit his 24th with two on to give Simmons his ninth victory. The only run off Simmons came on successive doubles by Adcock and Del Crandall.

The Giant hitters continued to play dead while Perkowski and Baczewski, Cincinnati's most effective pitchers, did their stuff. Perkowski's four-hit shutout was his 10th victory of the year and ninth in his last 10 decisions. Willard Marshall's homer with two on eased the left-hander's way. Baczewski didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning of the second game but finally gave up the Giants' lone run of the day in the sixth. Jim Hearn and Ruben Gomez were the Giant losers.

Pittsburgh and Chicago were delayed an hour and 31 minutes by rain in the seventh inning after Ralph Kiner's 25th homer with Tommy Brown on base put the Cubs on top. Frank Thomas singled home Cal Abrams to tie the score in the ninth. Turk Lown was the winner over Murry Dickson.

TAM O'SHANTER GOLF TOURNEY IS WASHED OUT

CHICAGO (AP)—The All-American Golf Tourney, rained out of its scheduled finish yesterday, had a sideshow touch to its delayed wind-up today.

An array of 40 pros among the 150 men and women who must tackle Tam O'Shanter course for a fifth day completed in a $25,000 hole-in-one television show.

This all was incidental to the related closing round of the All-American Three-Ply Tourney. Eighty players had finished the concluding round yesterday before Harvey Raynor, PGA tourney supervisor, ruled the course was too water-logged for play. All scores were cancelled.

The postponement gladdened the 54-hole leader, Peter Cooper, the Floridian who works as a club pro in White Plains, N. Y.

Three In Lead
When the rains came, Cooper, Jackie Burke and Dave Douglas were matched for the lead through the first eight holes of the final round, eight under par. Bo Waininger, Oklahoma City pro, who had a 210 score for 54 holes, also was eight under after an opening 34.

In the concurrent All-American Women's Open, leader Betty Hicks of Culver City, Calif., nursed her two-stroke 54-hole lead 229 to 231 against the year's leading money-winner, Louise Suggs. Babe Zaharias, who had completed her fourth round with a respectable 80 for a 325 total, 21 over par, said she was ready for the extra round. The Babe, making her first tourney start since an April cancer operation, said her game was returning.

In the men's amateur division, the tight still was between Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., and John Levinson, Chicago lawyer, 218 to 220.

The cellar-dwelling Tigers knocked the Giants out of the Little League championship race Saturday afternoon and assured the Yankees of the first season Little League title when the Tigers defeated the Giants 12 to 2.

The Yankees were handed the league championship in spite of their defeat at the hands of the Cubs in the second game.

The Tigers won their important tilt with the no-hit pitching of James Townsend. He had six strikeouts. The Giants pushed two runs across in the first inning but the Tigers came back with three, added six more in the fourth. Dreas had a homerun and a three-bagger for the victors.

In the Yankee game, the league champs took a six-run lead in the second inning but the Cubs scored in their half of the second, tied it up with five runs in the third and added three more in the fourth and again in the fifth inning to stand off a Yankee rally that brought in three runs in the sixth.

MISS CONNOLLY TO TAKE REST

RYE, N. Y. (AP)—The tennis girls can relax — champion Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly is tired of winning championships.

"I've been traveling too much and I feel I'm over-tennis," the 18-year-old girl from San Diego, Calif., said today. "After the Wightman Cup matches I'm going to take a week's rest. Also I'm taking a complete vacation this winter."

Little Mo and her American mates were scheduled to try and complete their tour of the invading British today in the Wightman Cup matches, postponed from yesterday because of rain. They need only one point to clinch, having taken a 3-0 lead Saturday.

Then while the other players, including the entire British team, head across the river for the Eastern Grass Court Championships at South Orange, N. J., Miss Connolly plans a week's rest in Philadelphia.

Next Sunday's Final Games
Emmitsburg at Bendersville. Greenmount at Bonneauville. Harney at Taneytown. Brushtown at Hunterstown.

Bonneauville secured undisputed possession of first place, and was assured of at least a tie for the top spot in the final standings as a result of Sunday's games in the South Penn baseball league.

It took eleven innings and a home run with one on base for Bonneauville to defeat Harney, 6-4, but at the same time Taneytown, which had been tied for the top spot, lost 3 to 1, to Brushtown.

Homer Brings Win
The Bonneauville-Harney game was probably the most tightly fought of any of the weekend contests.

Harney, playing on its own field, took over the lead in the fifth, with three runs, to go ahead 3 to 2. The league leaders added another in the fourth to make it all even at 3 to 3, then in ninth Bonneauville scored first to take a lead. Harney tied up to the game at 4 to 4 in the last of the ninth. Neither team could score in the tenth and then in the 11th, Bonneauville Shortstop John Clabaugh slashed out a homer with one on, to give the winners the lead. Harney was held scoreless in its half and Bonneauville had gained its 11th victory.

Takes Early Lead
Greenmount took an early lead, piling up six of its seven runs by the end of the third inning, and was never in danger thereafter while defeating Bendersville 7 to 4 at the Marsh Creek Heights park. Four of the victor's runs came in the third. Bendersville did all its scoring in the first four innings of play.

Brushtown had little difficulty in disposing of Taneytown, 3 to 1. Taneytown's only tally was on a homer by Lewis Crapner.

Hunterstown apparently wore itself out running bases according to the score reported in the Hunters-town-Emmitsburg contest. Hunters-town won, 29 to 4.

The Crowley — Ideal For A Young And Growing Family

Rooms Eight
Bedrooms Five
Closets Nine
Cubage: House 24,500 ft.
Garage 7,770 ft.
Dimensions 33' x 26'

Wide clapboards and stones combine to make a distinctive exterior finish completely in harmony with the architecture of "The Crowley." Either a plain wood or masonry finish could be used with attractive results if you do not care for a combination exterior. Blinds, the round window in the bathroom, the three windowed bay in the living room and the wide additional decorative appeal for the house exterior.

Measuring 33' x 26', "The Crowley" is built along simple, uncluttered lines and demands simple landscaping. Cubage of the main house is 24,500 feet. Overall dimensions are 33' x 26'. The garage wing has a cubage of 7,770 feet.

The front door opens on a small hall that contains both a coat closet in which to hang guests' wraps and a regular closet in which you can store your family's rain gear, or any other items which could most conveniently be kept in this section of your home.

You'll find the lavatory, placed to the right of the hallway, most convenient both for your guests and for your family. If you do not want to finish the second floor until some future date when you have need of the extra room, the lavatory can be double as a bathroom.

Handsome Living Room.

To the right, also opening off the entry hall, is the spacious and handsome living room. The three windowed bay in the front wall and the large fireplace in the right wall are the decorative highspots of the room. Both features also have practical values for the windows provide lots of extra light, sunshine and ventilation for the room; the fireplace will prove well worth the space it occupies on many a chilly day or evening.

Bookshelves, built-in at either side of the fireplace, further enhance the decorative charms of this section of the room. They'll also help you to keep the room uncluttered by providing a regular, and convenient storage spot for your books.

Against the unbroken section of back wall would make an excellent location for your television set.

The den or guest bedroom is located to the left off the living room. Measuring 13' by 11'6", the room is assured of good light and cross ventilation through the three windows in the back wall. You can and conveniently use this as a regular bedroom if you do not want to finish the second floor at the time the house is built.

China Closets.

Opening off the living room, the dining room with ample space for attractive arrangement of your dining room furniture. The built-in china closet in the left back corner of the room is an ideal storage and display spot for your fine china and glassware. Build in drawers at the bottom of the cabinet as a storage spot for your table linen. And be sure to take advantage of the light and view provided by the three windows in the right wall when arranging your dining table and chairs.

Conveniently near to the dining room, the kitchen is planned as a work center; yet contains enough room for a comfortable breakfast nook in the back right corner of the room. In dimensions, the kitchen is 12'6" x 13'6". Working counters, sinks and refrigerator line the left wall of the room. The sink is placed in the center of the array, under the large window out on the back yard.

Concealed in the back wall of the living room is the doorway that closes off the stairs to the second floor, which contains four bedrooms plus a bathroom.

Each of the bedrooms has cross ventilation and plenty of precious closet space. The left front bedroom is 15' x 12'6" and is designed to serve as the master bedroom. The right front bedroom measures 12'6" x 11'.

Things Of The Soil

TURNING WEEDS TO PROFIT

Numerous weeds, perennial as well as annual, will begin to ripen their seeds within the next two or three weeks. This means that the farm, garden, and lawn tasks for next year and even for several years beyond will be multiplied many times over unless these 1953 weeds are cut before the seed matures. When so great an advantage can be coupled with a profitable increase in soil fertility and moisture-holding powers, surely the war on weeds should be intelligently intensified during the next ten days to three or four weeks.

Weeds may be utilized as profitably on the compost heap or for immediate turning under to deepen and lighten shallow and hard soils as any other form a green manure. Of course, if they are cut or turned under when they are soft and green, that is, before they ripen their seed crop, they will decay sooner and improve the soil more.

Many farmers mow wheat and other early grain fields at this time of the year to destroy ragweeds. Allowing these cut weeds to remain where they fall, to dry and almost to disappear, results in the loss of considerable of their organic matter value. In many cases a liberal compost heap could be started by raking these and wetting them down along with some rich soil, a few handfuls of lime, and any other waste vegetation at hand.

In regions where drought is taking a heavy toll and roughage is likely to be scarce for winter, green weeds often make excellent silage. In fact it is probable that farmers are annually losing profitable supplies of better-than-average silage by neglecting to utilize weeds.

Many home vegetable gardeners complain that they cannot find sufficient vegetation to maintain compost heaps. Vacant lots in urban communities, fence rows, rural cemeteries, school property, and scores of other sources of weeds and grass offer almost unlimited stores. And in many instances the cutting will render a useful and with tub and shower, separates the two bedrooms in the right wing of the second floor. Measurements of the right back bedroom are 13'6" x 9' while those of the left back bedroom are 13'6" x 12'6". A large linen closet is conveniently placed between the two back bedrooms and opens on the connecting hallway.

Pansies And Violas Grow Well From Seed Sown Now

For shady places in the garden, where the soil is porous and well drained, there is no flower more rewarding in garden color and cut blooms than the pansy. Beginners who want experience in growing biennial flowers should start with the pansy, which is treated as a biennial and usually sown in late summer.

Fill a "flat" with a mixture of sharp sand and your best top soil, sifted. Scatter a packet of seed evenly over the surface, and cover it lightly with sifted soil. Keep moist and in the shade until the seed appreciated clean-up service.

House plant growers and gardeners who desire an extra supply of fine compost for potted plants, porch and window boxes, hotbeds and coldframes, and other late winter and spring roles may easily make a special compost heap of grass clippings and fine weeds, including old sod chopped fine and perhaps some weathered cattle manure gathered from a summer pasture and pulverized. If these materials are kept moist and turned every few weeks to hasten and make uniform their decay, the finished compost will be found useful in many important lawn, garden and related demands.

If sloping soils are likely to remain bare over winter or even relatively level land where the "splashing" effects of rain and the erosion caused by alternate freezing and thawing may rake a heavy toll, weeds cut before they mature their seeds and piled compactly to start decay will serve effectively as a winter cover applied later in the fall.

In saving immature weeds for winter cover or for making into compost, it is advisable to keep the material wet or at least fairly moist in order to promote decay without "burning." If the top of the heap is broad and concave to hold water, decay is hastened.

sprout, then place in a protected location where the plants will have a few hours of sunshine daily, and be watered as you do other plants.

When the seedlings are large enough to handle, they can be transplanted to other flats spaced two inches apart each way; but they do not insist upon this. Let them alone if you wish, and when freezing weather comes the flat will be crowded with vigorous plants. Place in a cold frame, or in a protected corner near the house foundation, where there is enough sun to keep down mildew, and cover the flat with dry leaves. Inspect it occasionally to be sure it is not too dry, but let the snow cover it without worrying.

In the spring your pansy plants should look much as they did in the fall with dark green leaves unfurled beneath the blanket of leaves. In a cold frame they can be flowered by tulip time, but a longer garden display will be obtained if the plants are kept in the open, and transplanted to the chosen place as soon as the soil is workable.

In well drained soil with only a few hours sun pansies will bloom all summer. The more blossoms you cut for indoor use, the more the plants will bear. If in midsummer the flowers cemoce fewer, cut back the top growth severely and a new crop will follow.

Violas are treated just like the pansies, the difference between them being chiefly a matter of size, and color markings. Violas have the tufted growth of violets, and no color blotches, or "faces."

When violas are given a protective mulch they will often live for several years, but the best practice is to start a flat of new seedlings every summer. It is remarkable how little time it takes, and how undemanding are the pansy and viola plants.

In selecting strains for the garden, many named varieties of both pansies and violas are available, as well as mixtures which provide all colors in the remarkable range which these flowers possess. Beds of a single color are beautiful, but most amateurs will find a mixture of colors most interesting.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF A TAX FOR GENERAL SCHOOL PURPOSES ON ADMISSIONS TO AMUSEMENTS WITHIN BERWICK TOWNSHIP, ADAMS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

Take notice that a meeting of the Board of Directors of the School District of Berwick Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, will be held on Tuesday, August 11, 1953, at 8:30 o'clock P.M. D.S.T., at New Oxford High School Building, New Oxford, Pennsylvania, at which time said Board of School Directors intends to pass a resolution providing for the levy and collection of a tax for general school purposes on admissions to amusements within said Township. Said levy being necessary in the judgment of the Board of School Directors by reason of the fact that the current revenues are insufficient to pay operating expenses of the School District. It is estimated that the revenue from said tax will amount to $1,500.00 or more per year.

BIDS

Sealed bids were received by the Gettysburg Joint School System, August 10, 1953 at 4 p.m. and will be publicly opened and read at Gettysburg High School on Monday, August 11, 1953 at 10 a.m. Bids for the furnishing and installation of automatic fire boiler.

Plans, specifications and contract documents may be examined without charge at office of said school. Plans, specifications and contract documents (not exceeding two sets per bidder) may be obtained from said School Jointure upon deposit of $10.00 per set for mechanical contract work. Deposit will be refunded upon submission of a bona fide bid, and return of plans and other documents in good condition within 10 days after bid opening. Otherwise, the deposit will be the property of the Engineer.

Proposals must be accompanied by certified check or bid bond with corporate surety satisfactory to the undersigned, payable to Gettysburg Joint School System in an amount not less than 5% of the bid, to be retained by the undersigned as liquidated damages in case bidder should default in executing contract and furnishing bonds within 10 days after notice of award.

This shall be irrevocable for a period of thirty (30) days from date of opening. A performance bond and a labor and material bond, each in an amount equal to the bid, shall be required by an approved surety company, shall be furnished to the Jointure by successful bidder at the time contract is executed.

The Jointure reserves the right to reject any or all bids, also reserves the right to waive informality and to consider the bid of the bidder in awarding the contract.

The work shall be completed by September 3, 1953.

13 KILLED IN STATE MISHAPS OVER WEEKEND

By The Associated Press

Thirteen persons, including a former governor of Maine and a Maine state senator, lost their lives in weekend accidents in Pennsylvania.

Three Pennsylvanians lost their lives in accidents outside the state. Former Maine Gov. William Tudor Gardner, Maine State Sen. Edward E. Chase and Edwin S. Burt, a Portland, Maine, wholesaler, were killed when their plane exploded in the air and hurtled to the earth in a heavily wooded area near Allentown yesterday.

Auto accidents on rain-slick highways took the lives to five others yesterday.

Two Cousins Killed
Two cousins from Sheppan, Pa., were killed when their automobile skidded out of control, struck five guardrails and smashed into a concrete bridge abutment near Shenandoah. A third man was critically injured.
